The happiness of the world is transitory. The less you become attached to the world, the more you enjoy peace of mind.

~Sarada Devi

You see, my son, it is not a fact that you will never face dangers. Difficulties always come, but they do not last forever. You will see that they pass away like water under a bridge.

~Sarada Devi

God cannot be realized without love. Yes, sincere love.

~Sarada Devi

Don't be afraid. Human birth is full of suffering and one has to endure everything patiently, taking the Name of God. None, not even God in human form can escape the sufferings of the body and mind.

~Sarada Devi

Even the impossible becomes possible through devotion.

~Sarada Devi

No one can suffer for all time. No one will spend all his days on this earth in suffering. Every action brings its own result, and one gets one's opportunities accordingly.

~Sarada Devi

Open your grief-stricken heart to the Lord. Weep and sincerely pray, 'O Lord, draw me towards You; give me peace of mind.' By doing so constantly you, will gradually attain peace of mind.

~Sarada Devi

As you smell the fragrance of a flower by handing it or the smell of sandalwood by rubbing it against a stone, so you obtain spiritual awakening by constantly thinking of God.

~Sarada Devi

There is no treasure equal to contentment and no virtue equal to fortitude.

~Sarada Devi

One must be patient like the earth. What iniquities are being perpetuated on her! Yet she quietly endures them all.

~Sarada Devi

My son, forbearance is a great virtue; there's no other like it.

~Sarada Devi

The difference between a great soul and an ordinary man is this: the latter weeps while leaving this body, whereas the former laughs. Death seems to him a mere play.

~Sarada Devi

What an illusion Mahamaya has conjured up! Here is this infinite world, and what one claims as his possession will be left behind at death. Still men cannot understand this simple truth.

~Sarada Devi

Certainly you will have doubts. There will be questionings and faith will return again. That is how faith is established.

~Sarada Devi

Such is life, here today, gone tomorrow! Nothing goes with one, except one's merit and demerit; good and evil deeds follow one even after death.

~Sarada Devi

As clouds are blown away by the wind, the thirst for material pleasures will be driven away by the utterance of the Lord's name.

~Sarada Devi

I am the mother of the wicked, as I am the mother of the virtuous. Never fear. Whenever you are in distress, say to yourself, "I have a mother."

~Sarada Devi

We have to surrender ourselves completely to the Lord with faith and devotion in Him, serve others to the best of our capacity, and never be a source of sorrow to anybody.

~Sarada Devi

The conjunction of the day and the night is the most auspicious time for calling on God. The mind remains pure at this time.

~Sarada Devi

Desire may be compared to a minute seed. It is like a big banyan tree growing out of a seed, which is no bigger than a dot.

~Sarada Devi

Don't puzzle the mind with too many inquiries. One finds it difficult to put one single thing into practising, but dares invite distraction by filling the mind with too many things.

~Sarada Devi

One should not hurt others even by words. One must not speak an unpleasant truth unnecessarily.

~Sarada Devi

If one calls upon Him repeatedly, He becomes compassionate; and so a devoted attachment comes into being. This love for love's sake should be hidden from all eyes.

~Sarada Devi

The Mother of the universe is the Mother of all. From Her have come out both good and evil.

~Sarada Devi

Pray to God and make your heart as pure as the star.

~Sarada Devi

I tell you one thing - if you want peace of mind, don not fault with others.

~Sarada Devi

We suffer as a result of our own actions; it is unfair to blame anybody for it.

~Sarada Devi

I can never refuse anyone who addresses me as Mother.

~Sarada Devi

This world is moving around like a wheel. That indeed is the last birth in which one gets completely rid of all desires.

~Sarada Devi

If you do a good act, it cancels the effects of your evil deeds. If one prays, takes the Name of God and thinks of Him, the effects of evil are cancelled.

~Sarada Devi

Is faith so cheap, my child? Faith is the last word. If one has faith, the goal is practically reached.

~Sarada Devi

My child, I bless you from my heart that you live long, attain devotion, and enjoy peace. Peace is the principal thing. One needs peace alone.

~Sarada Devi

Ordinary human love results in misery. Love for God brings blessedness.

~Sarada Devi

The grace of God is the thing that is needful. One should pray for the grace of God.

~Sarada Devi

In the course of time one does not feel even the existence of God. After attaining enlightenment one sees that gods and deities are all Maya.

~Sarada Devi

He who has really prayed to the Master, even once, has nothing to fear. By, praying to him constantly one gets ecstatic love (Prema Bhakti) through his grace.

~Sarada Devi

One should perform even an insignificant task with respect.

~Sarada Devi

Realization of God cannot be achieved without ecstatic love for Him.

~Sarada Devi

However strong or beautiful this body may be, its culmination is in those three pounds of ashes. And still people are so attached to it. Glory be to God.

~Sarada Devi

He who will pray to God eagerly will see Him.

~Sarada Devi

In one word, one should desire of God desirelessness. For desire alone is at the root of all suffering. It is the cause of repeated births and deaths. It is the obstacle in the way of liberation.

~Sarada Devi

He who thinks always of the Lord, which way can evil come to him?

~Sarada Devi

What else does one obtain by realization of God? Does one grow two horns? No, the mind becomes pure, and through a pure mind one attains knowledge and awakening.

~Sarada Devi

People complain about their griefs and sorrows and how they pray to God but find no relief from pain. But grief itself is a gift from God. It is the symbol of His compassion.

~Sarada Devi

A person may have no relatives anywhere, but Mahamaya may make him keep a cat and thus make him worldly. This is how She plays!

~Sarada Devi

Does one get faith by mere studying of books? Too much reading creates confusion. The Master used to say that one should learn from the scriptures that God alone is real and the world illusory.

~Sarada Devi

The world is going on because not all can be free of desires. People with desires are born again and again.

~Sarada Devi

The whole world is a dream; even this (the waking state) is a dream ... What you dreamt last night does not exist now.

~Sarada Devi

Why do people argue? Even the wisest of men have not found God through argument! Is God a subject for argument?

~Sarada Devi

No doubt, God alone has become all these objects, animate and inanimate, but in the relative world all beings act and suffer according to their past Karma and innate tendencies.

~Sarada Devi

The creation itself is full of griefs. How can one understand joy if there is no sorrow? And how can everyone be happy at the same time?
