You have people who know you are competent enough to do your job and then you have the ones that just hover around.

~Sarah Gadon

If we learn to understand each other, we will have a better understanding of ourselves.

~Sarah Gadon

I really like directors who give you a certain amount of autonomy because I think a lot about my characters and I think a lot about scenes and choices.

~Sarah Gadon

You want to be a part of something that is going to change history or make history or be bigger than yourself.

~Sarah Gadon

As women, we're always in negotiation with how we're being perceived versus how we feel.

~Sarah Gadon

The way I sometimes approach my work, when I look at a script for the first time, is to identify what the archetypes are and what the writing is trying to do in that context.

~Sarah Gadon

When you look at something that's so extraordinary, like a man who is traveling back in time to prevent JFK's assassination, for me as an actor, you're still trying to seed it in some sort of reality.

~Sarah Gadon

I think when you work with really wonderful directors who have a really strong vision, it lets you as an artist set the tone for your own career.

~Sarah Gadon

You're always in constant dialogue with your interior self versus your exterior self: how you look, and how you're perceived, and then people's preconceived notions of you.

~Sarah Gadon

I think the mark of a good director is that they surround themselves with good people.

~Sarah Gadon

My chosen occupation isn't necessarily movie star; I see my chosen occupation as actor.

~Sarah Gadon

I wore a pink Betsey Johnson dress to my prom, and I pretty much looked like a pink cupcake. I loved that dress!

~Sarah Gadon

It's mostly directors whom I get starstruck around.

~Sarah Gadon
