I work in the '60s more than I've done anything else. I did a movie, called Down with Love, in the '60s. I did a movie for HBO, about the Johnson administration in the '60s.

~Sarah Paulson

To not have any hope is where things start to get really bleak. Things are possible. The impossible can be possible.

~Sarah Paulson

The thing I worry about for myself is I spend a lot of time alone, and another person comes around and you're like, 'What are you doing here? Get out of here.'

~Sarah Paulson

Nobody could ever say as many terrible things to me as I say to myself.

~Sarah Paulson

I remember feeling the temperature change the first time the curtain came up, the difference between the audience temperature and the stage temperature. I'll never forget it.

~Sarah Paulson

Acting is doing. The more you do, the more you learn. Work begets work.

~Sarah Paulson

To me, most of life kind of lives in the grey and I don't just mean morally. I just mean kind of everything. If things were black and white it would be a lot clearer as to what to do all the time.

~Sarah Paulson

If I had my druthers, I would be working in all different mediums, forever.

~Sarah Paulson

I'm interested in telling the character's story, not my beliefs, political or otherwise.

~Sarah Paulson

I think it's very important for people to not judge the people you're playing. You have to find a way to love them because their story is theirs. I just don't think there would be any use in that.

~Sarah Paulson

All my friends went to the Madonna concert when I was in, maybe, the 9th grade, and my mother refused to let me go.

~Sarah Paulson

I've never been on a show that's run for more than a season.

~Sarah Paulson

There are rules, and when certain things happen, there are certain consequences.

~Sarah Paulson

If you heard me sing, you would just plug your ears and run, screaming, the other way. I promise.

~Sarah Paulson

When I have brown hair I feel the most like myself, but I don't feel glamorous. It's a disgusting thing to admit.

~Sarah Paulson

I'm sporting some really blonde hair because I live in Hollywood and I'm an actress.

~Sarah Paulson

I was a victim of what most people are a victim of, which is really, really just gulping down what was being fed to me by the media.

~Sarah Paulson

I am a person who is not mated.

~Sarah Paulson

I could never have thought, "I wanna play a two-headed woman." That just never would have occurred to me, in a million years.

~Sarah Paulson

The theater commitment is hard, especially in conjunction with a television commitment. That's a big, long commitment.

~Sarah Paulson

I do like the immediacy of audience's reaction. I like when I can hear the stillness and I know that they're with us.

~Sarah Paulson

No, I'm not a Republican working in Hollywood, I am a Democrat.

~Sarah Paulson

I've only been to one concert in my life.

~Sarah Paulson

I've always really made my living in television. Television has always been so good to me.
