Success Corrupts and Limits Potential as Soon as You Start to Think You Could Do It Alone.

~Scott Belsky

When 99% of people doubt your idea, you're either gravely wrong or about to make history.

~Scott Belsky

Creativity is, quite simply, a genuine interest combined with initiative.

~Scott Belsky

It's not about ideas. It's about making ideas happen.

~Scott Belsky

It's only by saying no that you can concentrate on the things that really matter.

~Scott Belsky

Perspiration is the best form of differentiation, especially in the creative world.

~Scott Belsky

The fact that time is ticking should motivate you to take action on your ideas.

~Scott Belsky

A labor of love always pays off.

~Scott Belsky

An idea can only become a reality once it is broken down into organized, actionable elements.

~Scott Belsky

To envision what will be, you must remove yourself from the constant concern for what already is.

~Scott Belsky

Everything in life should be approached as a project. Every project can be broken down into just three things: Action Steps, Backburner Items, and References.

~Scott Belsky

Most ideas are born and lost in isolation.

~Scott Belsky

Nothing extraordinary is achieved through ordinary means.

~Scott Belsky

Share ownership of your ideas. The more people who lie awake in bed thinking about your idea, the better.

~Scott Belsky

When the next step is unclear, the best way to figure it out is to take action. Constant motion is the key to execution.

~Scott Belsky

The magic happens when you find the sweet spot where your genuine interests, skills, and opportunity intersect.

~Scott Belsky

The young and the ambitious share a common risk: appearing naive.

~Scott Belsky

Overcome the stigma of self-marketing.

~Scott Belsky

Discovery happens in the overlap of difference communities... in the clashes of difference.

~Scott Belsky

Self-leadership is about awareness, tolerance , and not letting your own natural tendencies limit your potential.

~Scott Belsky

When a lot of people are calling you crazy: you're either crazy, or you're onto something.

~Scott Belsky

Ideas are worthless if you can't make them happen.

~Scott Belsky

Most ideas never happen. It's an uphill battle against the status quo and our own tendencies.

~Scott Belsky

Among idealists and visionaries, there is no shortage of good intent, but there's often a shortage of discipline.

~Scott Belsky

While the tendency to generate ideas is rather natural, the path to making them happen is tumultuous.

~Scott Belsky

Rather than Surrender to Bureaucracy, take it upon yourself to break it

~Scott Belsky

Today never feels like it will be history, but it will. And more likely than not, you will look back and realize that you should have known.

~Scott Belsky

The vision of extraordinary achievement is,by definition, a few steps beyond consensus and conventional logic
