The hard part about playing 'chicken' is knowing when to flinch.

~Scott Glenn

I often give my wife Carol scripts I'm offered and want her opinion - because she's a really smart lady, and she's got nothing to do with this business, so I get the audience's point of view.

~Scott Glenn

In my life, all of the best things that have happened to me have almost invariably been accidents or fate.

~Scott Glenn

I'm sure one reason I became an actor is my basic unwillingness to live one life.

~Scott Glenn

They say God looks after kids and idiots, and I think actors are probably a combination of the two.

~Scott Glenn

Acting gives you cosmic permission to take a trip in movies that lasts 24 hours a day, seven days a week, until the film is finished.

~Scott Glenn

I'm not a comic book guy. I've never been to Comic-Con. I don't know anything about that. It's a whole different world.

~Scott Glenn

You can't expect a man like me to be loyal to just one woman.

~Scott Glenn

At my age, to still be able to do parts that are super physical, I'm lucky. I'm doing more fun stuff now than I ever have in my life. I'm just really fortunate.

~Scott Glenn

I'm the most computer illiterate human being that ever lived. My grandkids do everything for me, and then they say, "I won't even explain it to you, grandpa, 'cause you won't get it."

~Scott Glenn

Very often, when you're playing people who love each other, or who hate each other, you manufacture those feelings. You have to do that a lot.

~Scott Glenn

Very rarely do actors, even with features, get to live with a part for that long and really dig into it.

~Scott Glenn

I watched some of Lost series. And I realized that the character they wanted me to play didn't really come in for a long time. It would have just been the wrong thing for me to do.

~Scott Glenn

I never felt like I was on solid ground, emotionally.

~Scott Glenn

I had a job on a newspaper in Wisconsin, and I started off as most reporters did back then: writing obits and free ad giveaways.

~Scott Glenn

I'm way more comfortable around kids than I am people my own age.
