If comedy duos don't like each other, it just won't work.

~Scott Thompson

I'm not a wilting flower. I'm honest, so I pick a lot of fights. I've burned a lot of bridges.

~Scott Thompson

Americans know as much about Canada as straight people do about gays. Americans arrive at the border with skis in July, and straight people think that being gay is just a phase. A very long phase.

~Scott Thompson

When I was younger I wanted to be a big movie star who'd get to be funny on talk shows and then I wanted to retire and write science fiction.

~Scott Thompson

My cancer continues to make for all kind of hilarity.

~Scott Thompson

Comedy is actually very macho driven.

~Scott Thompson

I guess chemistry is just another word for love.

~Scott Thompson

I'm a total nerd. I love fantasy.

~Scott Thompson

I'm not really cool, or dashing, or any of those things.

~Scott Thompson

I think Canadian humor is a little less broad than American humor.

~Scott Thompson

I think the Canadian sense of humor is dryer than America's and juicier than Britain's. I think it's a cross between the two of them, really.

~Scott Thompson

When I found out I had cancer, I just said one thing: 'I want to hold on to life' and that changed everything for me.

~Scott Thompson

This world is filled with five billion people with five billion different ways of looking at things.

~Scott Thompson

A lot of gay men are in delusion if they think they're super macho.

~Scott Thompson

People don't listen when you lecture. No one wants to be talked down to or scolded.

~Scott Thompson

Well I think comedy everywhere has lost a bit of its bite. In Canada, I can't argue with the quality, but it feels like it's gotten a little safe.

~Scott Thompson

In France, everyone speaks French 'cause they think it's cool. Gives 'em, gives 'em an excuse to smoke.

~Scott Thompson

Fathers should start teaching the boys how to punch.

~Scott Thompson

Why is being outed such a big deal? When I find out that someone's gay, my respect for them increases tenfold.

~Scott Thompson

Art is about the edges and the sharp corners and those places are not conducive to activism, which is about putting on a gloss.

~Scott Thompson

I first got into fruit when I was a teenager, when my life was changing in every way. The first time I had a mango, at like 18, I was like, 'Where has this been my whole life?'

~Scott Thompson

I believe the things that happened to me as a child scarred me terribly, and I wish somebody would have helped me with some of the things that happened.

~Scott Thompson

My theory is that comedy comes from little people.

~Scott Thompson

I resented that my career wasn't going the way that it was supposed to. And I was angry that I wasn't getting the parts that I wanted.

~Scott Thompson

I think a case could be made that there's sort of a crisis of masculinity in the West. Particularly with white males.

~Scott Thompson

The gay male is always going to be at the bottom.
