Isn't it kind of silly to think that tearing someone else down builds you up?

~Sean Covey

We become what we repeatedly do.

~Sean Covey

A fruit salad is delicious precisely because each fruit maintains its own flavor.

~Sean Covey

One of the few things that can't be recycled is wasted time.

~Sean Covey

Strong minds talk about ideas; weak minds talk about people.

~Sean Covey

Life is a mission, not a career. A career is a profession, a mission is a cause. A career asks, What's in it for me? A mission asks, How can I make a difference?

~Sean Covey

We must all suffer from one of two pains: the pain of discipline or the pain of regret. The difference is discipline weighs ounces while regret weighs tons.

~Sean Covey

Depending on what they are, our habits will either make us or break us. We become what we repeatedly do.

~Sean Covey

We are free to choose our paths, but we can't choose the consequences that come with them.

~Sean Covey

Education must be a lifelong pursuit. The person who doesn't read is not better off than the person who can't.

~Sean Covey

Make as many friends as you can, but don't build your life on them alone. It's an unstable foundation.

~Sean Covey

Don't wait until people are dead to give them flowers.

~Sean Covey

If you could envision the type of person God intended you to be, you would rise up and never be the same again.

~Sean Covey

Don't let your pride or a lack of courage stand in the way of saying you're sorry to people you may have offended.

~Sean Covey

Honesty is always the best policy, even when it's not the trend.

~Sean Covey

Small changes can make huge destination differences.

~Sean Covey

It's especially hard to admit that you made a mistake to your parents, because, of course, you know so much more than they do.

~Sean Covey

Now think deeply. What have you done with your life over the past year? How do you feel inside?

~Sean Covey

All the events of your past have formed a lens, or paradigm, through which you see the world. And since no one's past is exactly like anyone else's, no two people see alike.

~Sean Covey

My dad is a good role model for me, and then I had a high school coach that really helped me out when I was struggling and made a big difference in my life.

~Sean Covey

You should see my baby pictures. My cheeks hung off my face like water balloons. You can imagine how often I was teased.

~Sean Covey

Listening can heal wounds.

~Sean Covey

I think the greatest challenge between child and parent is communication.

~Sean Covey

If you're planning on dropping out of high school, prepare yourself for the future by repeating aloud each day: 'I'm looking forward to low-paying jobs for the rest of my life.'

~Sean Covey

These problems are real, and you can't turn off real life. So I won't try. Instead, I'll give you a set of tools to help you deal with real life.

~Sean Covey

The following is a list of statements made many years ago by experts in their fields. At the time they were said they sounded intelligent. With the passing of time, they sound idiotic.

~Sean Covey

You can usually tell when a couple becomes centered on each other because they are forever breaking up and getting back together.

~Sean Covey

My focus has kind of been on teenagers, you know, and I think we've got a huge crisis right now in America, among our teens.

~Sean Covey

My dad told me that when I was born my cheeks were so fat the doctors didn't know which end to spank.

~Sean Covey

One of the greatest gifts a parent can give a child is to help them find their talents.
