God knows, I never want to hurt someone's feelings.

~Selma Blair

The only time he cries is if he's hungry. We all have nipples. I don't care who I offend; my baby wants to eat. If I can't get a cover over me quick enough, so be it.

~Selma Blair

I used to wear a lot of red lipstick, and when I got a pimple, I'd cover it up with eyeliner to turn it into a beauty mark.

~Selma Blair

I have no fears when it comes to my hair or clothes.

~Selma Blair

A wedding is such a girl thing.

~Selma Blair

My first crush was Spock. I thought it didn't get any better than Spock.

~Selma Blair

I'm pretty much a loner and I've lived under the radar.

~Selma Blair

I'm flat chested, I'm short, I'm brunette, I have droopy eyes, and so people have a hard time casting me as a 'beauty.'

~Selma Blair

I have very little faith that I'll ever find someone. I've had some bad luck and I've made some bad choices - not in men, but in how I've chosen to deal with relationships.

~Selma Blair

I don't like slugs and tentacles and calamari or anything. Actually, tentacles made me turn into a vegetarian in high school. I'm not anymore, but in high school, we were dissecting squid.

~Selma Blair

The whole point to life-that you have to experience yourself, but then when you do you realize that you've learned so much from the bad things that sometimes they're better than the good things.

~Selma Blair

I think I'm more approachable with long hair. When it's short, I come across as being artsy and weird.

~Selma Blair

I have no ego, I'll make fun of myself, and I'll make fun of being humiliated. I get it.

~Selma Blair

I don't always know how to communicate. I think I get a bit unfiltered and a bit strange to people.

~Selma Blair

I do turn down things that I feel aren't right for me, like when it's some kind of adolescent thing that might typecast me, but I'm not worried about it.

~Selma Blair

My mother dressed me always very conservatively.

~Selma Blair

It's fun to play mom. Last I knew I was playing a 17-year-old who graduated.

~Selma Blair

I was a smoker for about 20 years.

~Selma Blair

A Dirty Shame was a crazy movie. I don't understand that movie at all. I don't get it, but I'd work with John Waters again in a heartbeat. He's just a delight.

~Selma Blair

It's fun to go to the movies and be scared.

~Selma Blair

I played teen roles until high definition came out.

~Selma Blair

I think we all feel like misfits when we open our mouth sometimes, you know?

~Selma Blair

Part of me would love to have been a leading lady because there's a lot of glamour that goes with that and a lot of applause, but I've been very blessed.

~Selma Blair

I'm a working actress able to make choices based on characters rather than what I 'should' do for my career.

~Selma Blair

I'm open to anything. I would love to play someone completely off the wall.

~Selma Blair

I'm one of those hovering mothers and I know it's really important to have an independent child, so I'm trying to back off, but it's hard. I love him so much, and he's so funny and cute to me.

~Selma Blair

Perhaps I have managed some sort of longevity because I haven't won the lead roles.

~Selma Blair

My sister, I have a sister who's 12 years older, she was always the party girl, the outrageous one.

~Selma Blair

In high school I would mess with my hair and makeup all the time.

~Selma Blair

I'm a terrible dancer. Terrible. Just the pits. And I had to do these cheerleading things and it was just cringe-worthy. I mean, I'm so bad, so that was painful.

~Selma Blair

I have three sisters, that's it for the family.

~Selma Blair

It's a sleepy, wonderful, idyllic town but there's a curse on it from 100 years ago, ... The people who died in this kind of boating accident have come back to take their revenge.

~Selma Blair

The problem with paparazzi is that it makes you question your boundaries, like, how do I say, That's enough guys?

~Selma Blair

I can't afford security. I can't afford a gated house. So, I feel a little vulnerable. I wish some laws would come into play.

~Selma Blair

I put my foot in my mouth every time I'm interviewed.

~Selma Blair

Dark Horse was my second time working with Todd Solondz. I love him truly, very much. And I don't think he'd ever worked with an actor a second time. It was groundbreaking.

~Selma Blair

I think I'm under the radar enough where I don't think I'm typecast as anything yet, so I'm pretty free and clear.

~Selma Blair

I go from being hugely hopeful and entertaining to... really not. I'm not manic depressive, but I can really go to the darker side.
