Every morning we have a choice -- forget our dreams or live them.

~Seth Gabel

To get to play a bad person and do bad things in a safe environment like 'Arrow' was pretty amazing.

~Seth Gabel

Before Fringe I was in Dirty Sexy Money playing Jeremy Darling who was this bratty New York socialite.

~Seth Gabel

Fringe' was the first time I realized that I could ever man up in a character and make this transition from being a boy or a young man into actually being a man.

~Seth Gabel

Whatever kind of story you're telling, whether it's a genre piece for a comic book or whatever it is, it has importance because it's all a metaphor for the existence of our being.

~Seth Gabel

I think what's so great about 'Arrow' is that they really ground everything in reality.

~Seth Gabel

I think everyone thinks their family is insane, and every family is insane. There is no real normal.

~Seth Gabel

The more you spend time with a character, the more you see different nuances of that character.

~Seth Gabel

I just think, as a species, what we [people] enjoy most is creation and creativity, and telling stories is an extension of expressing all the thoughts and ideas that we have inside of ourselves.
