~Sia Furler

I'm an advocate of 'it's not what you are, it's who you are.'

~Sia Furler

I've got thick skin and an elastic heart.

~Sia Furler

I liked when I was naive and I thought it was just about making good music.

~Sia Furler

I get to sit at home with the dogs on the sofa, record in a closet in the office, send them off and, if I'm lucky, make a million dollars.

~Sia Furler

I may cry ruining my make up, Wash away all things you've taken.. I don't care if I don't look pretty, Big girls cry when their hearts are breaking.

~Sia Furler

I don't want to be famous, or recognizable.

~Sia Furler

People aren't honest about the horrors of fame. The downsides are so overwhelming that, for me, there is no payoff.

~Sia Furler

I'll be the songwriter for pop stars and then they can be the front person and I don't have to be famous.

~Sia Furler

I'm sensitive and get easily upset and insulted.

~Sia Furler

Fame made me develop a panic disorder.

~Sia Furler

I feel like I've always had gay fans, I don't think my dating a woman has changed my demographic, but it certainly changed the way I feel about politics.

~Sia Furler

It was really shocking to me that when I was dating a dude I could get married and my taxes were 8 grand less, blah blah blah.

~Sia Furler

I have social anxiety. It's easier up on stage because there's security in being there. When I'm off stage I'm trying not to be a manic freak. I'm quite shy.

~Sia Furler

I don't really even go out that much now except to walk my dogs, because I don't want to be recognised.

~Sia Furler

I hope I am a psychotherapist's dream. I've spent enough hours in therapy.

~Sia Furler

I'm sort of a gay man trapped in a woman's body when it comes to music sometimes - it's crowded in here!

~Sia Furler

People call me for the ballads. Apparently that's where I've been pigeonholed. But it's really interesting and really fun. It's my favourite part of the job, writing.

~Sia Furler

When you're entertaining all day long and that's your work, you end up really very tired. You don't have a lot of energy left over for your loved ones.

~Sia Furler

I was born pretty lucky, an Aryan Australian, friendly girl, that gives you a lot of advantages in the world. I was unaware of people's fights or struggles for equality. I was really naive.

~Sia Furler

There are probably five songs in the world that I get excited about when I hear them on the radio.

~Sia Furler

If anyone besides famous people knew what it was like to be a famous person, they would never want to be famous.

~Sia Furler

I liked myself much more before I got famous. I was much friendlier and had more energy.

~Sia Furler
