In the business of politics, emotions and productive dissatisfaction with the world in which we live today are gradually being covered up by the minutiae of ordinary life.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Without sound conservation and management measures, fisheries will quickly become depleted and a basic component of global food security will be lost.

~Sigmar Gabriel

We need a greening of globalisation.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Real life is happening outside and not in front of a computer.

~Sigmar Gabriel

The idea that the growing demand for energy worldwide can be met with energy from nuclear power is nonsense.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Iran is the only country in the world that's threatening to erase another country from the map as part of a collective genocide.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Maybe it is the last chance for Europe to influence standards for world trade. Next it will be between the US and the Asia-Pacific region.

~Sigmar Gabriel

What could become a danger to world peace is Iran's nuclear program and the country's open threat to annihilate Israel.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Taming the financial markets and winning back democratic control over them is the central condition for creating a new social balance in

Germany and Europe.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Those who reject integration programs in the long term have as little right to stay in Germany as a hate preacher paid from abroad in a mosque.

~Sigmar Gabriel

Climate protection creates sustainability and jobs in the real economy - in construction, in the production of heavy machinery and in systems engineering.

~Sigmar Gabriel

I hope Gunter Grass will continue helping the SPD in campaigns and that he will otherwise remain with us as a provocative literary figure, as well.

~Sigmar Gabriel

I'm hearing different things, but there is concern that stable Germany is no longer quite so stable.
