Unexpressed emotions will never die. They are buried alive and will come forth later in uglier ways.

~Sigmund Freud

We choose not randomly each other. We meet only those who already exists in our subconscious.

~Sigmund Freud

One day, in retrospect, the years of struggle will strike you as the most beautiful.

~Sigmund Freud

Most people do not really want freedom, because freedom involves responsibility, and most people are frightened of responsibility.

~Sigmund Freud

The great question that has never been answered, and which I have not yet been able to answer, despite my thirty years of research into the feminine soul, is 'What does a woman want?'

~Sigmund Freud

Out of your vulnerabilities will come your strength.

~Sigmund Freud

In the small matters trust the mind, in the large ones the heart.

~Sigmund Freud

The mind is like an iceberg, it floats with one-seventh of its bulk above water.

~Sigmund Freud

We are what we are because we have been what we have been.

~Sigmund Freud

I prefer the company of animals more than the company of humans. Certainly, a wild animal is cruel. But to be merciless is the privilege of civilized humans.

~Sigmund Freud

Love is a state of temporary psychosis.

~Sigmund Freud

The only person with whom you have to compare ourselves, is that you in the past. And the only person better you should be, this is who you are now.

~Sigmund Freud

All family life is organized around the most damaged person in it.

~Sigmund Freud

I have found little 'good' about human beings. In my experience, most of them are trash.

~Sigmund Freud

To be completely honest with oneself is the very best effort a human being can make.

~Sigmund Freud

Civilization began the first time an angry person cast a word instead of a rock.

~Sigmund Freud

Maturity is the ability to postpone gratification.

~Sigmund Freud

Where does a thought go when it's forgotten?

~Sigmund Freud

If you want your wife to listen to you, then talk to another woman; she will be all ears.

~Sigmund Freud

The only shame in masturbation is the shame of not doing it well.

~Sigmund Freud

Being entirely honest with oneself is a good exercise.

~Sigmund Freud

When a man is freed of religion, he has a better chance to live a normal and wholesome life.

~Sigmund Freud

Time spent with cats is never wasted.

~Sigmund Freud

Dogs love their friends and bite their enemies, quite unlike people, who are incapable of pure love and always have to mix love and hate.

~Sigmund Freud

From error to error one discovers the entire truth.

~Sigmund Freud

Neurosis is the inability to tolerate ambiguity.

~Sigmund Freud

When one does not have what one wants, one must want what one has.

~Sigmund Freud

If it's not one thing, it's your mother.

~Sigmund Freud

One must learn to give up momentary, uncertain and destructive pleasure for delayed, restrained, but dependable pleasure.

~Sigmund Freud

I became aware of my destiny: to belong to the critical minority as opposed to the unquestioning majority.

~Sigmund Freud

In the depths of my heart I can't help being convinced that my dear fellow-men, with a few exceptions, are worthless.

~Sigmund Freud

Psychoanalysis is in essence a cure through love.

~Sigmund Freud

Where they love they do not desire and where they desire they do not love.

~Sigmund Freud

How bold one gets when one is sure of being loved.

~Sigmund Freud

I had the greatest respect for the authorities of my day--until I studied things for myself, and came to my own conclusions.

~Sigmund Freud

The unconscious of one human being can react upon that of another without passing through the conscious.

~Sigmund Freud

Without love we fall ill.

~Sigmund Freud

History is just new people making old mistakes.

~Sigmund Freud

He that has eyes to see and ears to hear may convince himself that no mortal can keep a secret. If his lips are silent, he chatters with his fingertips; betrayal oozes out of him at every pore.

~Sigmund Freud

When inspiration does not come to me, I go halfway to meet it.

~Sigmund Freud

I cannot think of any need in childhood as strong as the need for a father's protection.

~Sigmund Freud

The only unnatural sexual behavior is none at all.

~Sigmund Freud

There is little that gives children greater pleasure than when a grown-up lets himself down to their level, renounces his oppressive superiority and plays with them as an equal.

~Sigmund Freud

Look into the depths of your own soul and learn first to know yourself, then you will understand why this illness was bound to come upon you and perhaps you will thenceforth avoid falling ill.

~Sigmund Freud

My boy! Smoking is one of the greatest and cheapest enjoyments in life, and if you decide in advance not to smoke, i can only feel sorry for you.

~Sigmund Freud

Love and work are the cornerstones of our humanness.

~Sigmund Freud

The creative writer does the same as the child at play; he creates a world of fantasy which he takes very seriously.

~Sigmund Freud

When a love-relationship is at its height there is no room left for any interest in the environment; a pair of lovers are sufficient to themselves

~Sigmund Freud

Dreams are the royal road to the unconscious.

~Sigmund Freud

Whoever loves becomes humble. Those who love have, so to speak, pawned a part of their narcissism.

~Sigmund Freud

All giving is asking, and all asking is an asking for love.

~Sigmund Freud

If a man has been his mother's undisputed darling he retains throughout life the triumphant feeling, the confidence in success, which not seldom brings actual success along with it.

~Sigmund Freud

None believes in his own death. In the unconscious everyone is convinced of his own immortality.

~Sigmund Freud

The ego represents what we call reason and sanity, in contrast to the id which contains the passions.

~Sigmund Freud

This is one race of people for whom psychoanalysis is of no use whatsoever.

~Sigmund Freud

Humanity is in the highest degree irrational, so that there is no prospect of influencing it by reasonable arguments. Against prejudice one can do nothing.

~Sigmund Freud

Not to know the past is to be in bondage to it, while to remember, to know, is to be set free.

~Sigmund Freud

The aim of psychoanalysis is to relieve people of their neurotic unhappiness so that they can be normally unhappy.

~Sigmund Freud

The madman is a dreamer awake

~Sigmund Freud

The Irish are the one race for which psychoanalysis is of no use whatsoever... because they already live in a dream world.

~Sigmund Freud

The behavior of a human being in sexual matters is often a prototype for the whole of his other modes of reaction in life.

~Sigmund Freud

Conservatism, however, is too often a welcome excuse for lazy minds, loath to adapt themselves to fast changing conditions.

~Sigmund Freud

Were we fully to understand the reasons for other people's behavior, it would all make sense.

~Sigmund Freud

What a distressing contrast there is between the radiant intelligence of the child and the feeble mentality of the average adult.

~Sigmund Freud

I do not think our successes can compete with those of Lourdes. There are so many more people who believe in the miracles of the Blessed Virgin than in the existence of the unconscious.

~Sigmund Freud

The interpretation of dreams is the royal road to a knowledge of the unconscious activities of the mind.

~Sigmund Freud

I cannot face with comfort the idea of life without work; work and the free play of the imagination are for me the same thing, I take no pleasure in anything else.

~Sigmund Freud

Men are more moral than they think and far more immoral than they can imagine.

~Sigmund Freud

America is a mistake, a giant mistake.

~Sigmund Freud

Sometimes a cigar is just a cigar.

~Sigmund Freud

The act of birth is the first experience of anxiety, and thus the source and prototype of the affect of anxiety.

~Sigmund Freud

The poets and philosophers before me discovered the unconscious; what I discovered was the scientific method by which the unconscious can be studied.

~Sigmund Freud

If you want to endure life, prepare yourself for death.

~Sigmund Freud

Every normal person, in fact, is only normal on the average. His ego approximates to that of the psychotic in some part or other and to a greater or lesser extent.

~Sigmund Freud

Beauty has no obvious use; nor is there any clear cultural necessity for it. Yet civilization could not do without it.

~Sigmund Freud

That which we can't remember, we will repeat.

~Sigmund Freud

It is not attention that the child is seeking, but love.

~Sigmund Freud

Two hallmarks of a healthy life are the abilities to love and to work. Each requires imagination.

~Sigmund Freud

A civilization which leaves so large a number of its participants unsatisfied and drives them into revolt neither has nor deserves the prospect of a lasting existence.

~Sigmund Freud

So in every individual the two trends, one towards personal happiness and the other unity with the rest of humanity, must contend with each other.

~Sigmund Freud

My love is something valuable to me which I ought not to throw away without reflection.

~Sigmund Freud

Anxiety in children is originally nothing other than an expression of the fact they are feeling the loss of the person they love.

~Sigmund Freud

Once again, only religion can answer the question of the purpose of life. One can hardly be wrong in concluding that the idea of life having a purpose stands and falls with the religious system.

~Sigmund Freud

The goal of all life is death

~Sigmund Freud

The true believer is in a high degree protected against the danger of certain neurotic afflictions; by accepting the universal neurosis he is spared the task of forming a personal neurosis.

~Sigmund Freud

It is impossible to overlook the extent to which civilization is built upon a renunciation of instinct.

~Sigmund Freud

Knowledge is the intellectual manipulation of carefully verified observations.

~Sigmund Freud

Perception is less of a recording system and more of a protection system against external stimuli.

~Sigmund Freud

We are never so defenseless against suffering as when we love.

~Sigmund Freud

Flowers are restful to look at. They have neither emotions nor conflicts.

~Sigmund Freud

The more the fruits of knowledge become accessible to men, the more widespread is the decline of religious belief.

~Sigmund Freud

Perhaps the gods are kind to us, by making life more disagreeable as we grow older. In the end death seems less intolerable than the manifold burdens we carry

~Sigmund Freud

Talk therapy turns hysterical misery to mundane unhappiness.

~Sigmund Freud

Neurotics complain of their illness, but they make the most of it, and when it comes to taking it away from them they will defend it like a lioness her young.

~Sigmund Freud

I no longer count as one of my merits that I always tell the truth as much as possible; it has become my metier.

~Sigmund Freud

One is very crazy when in love.

~Sigmund Freud

The paranoid is never entirely mistaken.

~Sigmund Freud

The intention that man should be happy is not in the plan of Creation.

~Sigmund Freud

When someone abuses me I can defend myself, but against praise I am defenceless.

~Sigmund Freud

Illusions commend themselves to us because they save us pain and allow us to enjoy pleasure instead.
