There are any number of magical creatures, mostly female, whose singing can bring about horror and death. Sirens, undines, banshees, Bananarama tribute bands...

~Simon R. Green

Never go anywhere without condiments. Condiments are our friends.

~Simon R. Green

The only good hero is the kind who survives to talk about merchandising.

~Simon R. Green

Nothing is hidden, nothing is ever lost, nothing is ever forgotten. That's always been part of my problem.

~Simon R. Green

Though I often run out of courage and good sense, stubbornness keeps me going.

~Simon R. Green

You know, sometimes I swear the whole universe runs on irony.

~Simon R. Green

Future is like an asshole. Everybody has one.---John Taylor (Nightside Series)

~Simon R. Green

If you don't trust anyone, they can't let you down.

~Simon R. Green

Sometimes humour is all we have to say the things that can't be said.

~Simon R. Green

What is the world coming to, when you can't even trust a rogue vicar

and her demon lover?

~Simon R. Green

While the cat's away, you may find the rats getting damned uppity.

~Simon R. Green

First rule of engineering; beware prototypes. Along with, avoid anything made by an engineer who doesn't have all his own fingers.

~Simon R. Green

Keep your mind too open, and you never know what might walk in.

~Simon R. Green

Wait. You've got principles? We'll have to update your file.

~Simon R. Green

After all, you're only an immortal until someone manages to kill you. After that, you were just long-lived.

~Simon R. Green

God does so love to make a man break a promise.

~Simon R. Green

When you are tired of life, come to Haven. And someone will kill you.

~Simon R. Green

Revenge is simply justice with teeth.

~Simon R. Green

When God wanted a city levelled, or all the first-born slaughtered in one night, he sent an angel.

~Simon R. Green

Angel: And what will you do with the world, once it is yours?' N. Hob:

'Punish it, for not loving me.

~Simon R. Green

You want me to sneak up on an angel and rip out its pinfeathers, so you can make a fashion statement?

~Simon R. Green

Books can be terrible snobs.

~Simon R. Green

I didn't know if I still had it in me to be really dangerous, but I thought so. It's like knocking someone off a bike with a baseball bat; you never really lose the knack.

~Simon R. Green

Who's got my Jaffa Cakes? You know I can't function without Jaffa Cakes.

~Simon R. Green

Oh God, it's her, run!

~Simon R. Green

Alexandra was tall and blond, with a balcony you could do Shakespeare from.

~Simon R. Green

The cream-tiled walls were spattered here and there with old dried bloodstains, deep gouges that might have been clawmarks, and all kinds of graffiti. As usual, someone had spelt Cthulhu wrongly.

~Simon R. Green

Last night I dreamed I was still human, but now I have woken up, into something better. Farewell, my friends, farewell.

~Simon R. Green

I went to a house that was not a house. I opened a door that was not a door. And what I saw, I saw.

~Simon R. Green

I always feel most alive when everything else is dying all around me

~Simon R. Green

No one likes to admit that in the end we all die by inches, gradually losing all the defining visual characteristics that make us us

~Simon R. Green

There has been peace. There will be peace again. But right now, we have work to do.

~Simon R. Green

Because nothing makes love and life matter more than the knowledge that some day it must end.
