I wear whatever makes me comfortable on stage, so that I feel confident. Some days it's a plaid skirt with a button-up and other days it's jeans with a hockey jersey and platforms.

~Sky Ferreira

I like writing different types of music. I don't like being stuck into one thing.

~Sky Ferreira

I hate being forced to do things. I hate people telling me what to do, so I'll do the complete opposite. It's a bit self-destructive sometimes.

~Sky Ferreira

Dreams do come true. They definitely do come true. It just takes a while, I guess. Sometimes it doesn't, but for me it did, anyway.

~Sky Ferreira

I feel like I didn't know who I was when I was 15. I don't feel like you're who you are for life, not even when you're 20.

~Sky Ferreira

I wanted to try something different. Most people my age go off to college; I thought I'd try out New York.

~Sky Ferreira

Sex is one of God's gifts, just use it right.

~Sky Ferreira

I didn't grow up in a regular upbringing. I ended up at my grandmother's house past a certain age, so I took care of things myself. I moved out of home when I was 16.

~Sky Ferreira

I hate when people call me a socialite because you have to have money to be a socialite, which I don't have.

~Sky Ferreira

How could you know what it feels like to fight the hounds of hell?

~Sky Ferreira

I'm pretty sarcastic, and sometimes that doesn't come across on the Internet. It seems I'm being rude or stupid.

~Sky Ferreira

There's people trying to tell me what to do, but I'm not like some marketing scam.

~Sky Ferreira

I started making music professionally when I was 14. I did songs on that program GarageBand, and then I'd put demos up on MySpace with my friends.

~Sky Ferreira

Just because you have a blog doesn't mean that you should, like, lie for no reason.

~Sky Ferreira

I'm definitely a crier. I get really emotional if someone's being rude or says something mean about me.

~Sky Ferreira

I'm like the Christina Aguilera of the Internet.

~Sky Ferreira

I'm not some sort of puppet. Like, there isn't a team of people telling me what to do.

~Sky Ferreira

I've always made music - pretty much since I was born.

~Sky Ferreira

I think there's a lot of unnecessary bullshit on the Internet. You can drown in it.

~Sky Ferreira

When I write songs for myself it's really personal and I just can't have someone else singing it.

~Sky Ferreira

I don't really have the time or energy to be bad.

~Sky Ferreira

The fashion community has really embraced me, which has been helpful with getting my music out.

~Sky Ferreira

I'm a boots girl. I always wear boots. They only look better when they get dirty.

~Sky Ferreira

You never know what's going to be considered a hit, or what people are going to like.

~Sky Ferreira

A lot of social media saved my ass, so I'm totally for it.

~Sky Ferreira

I started making music professionally when I was 14.
