Once I've learned all those things and gotten through the hard times, I come out feeling really powerful.

~Skylar Grey

I discovered that my insecurities and my flaws were things that I actually need to embrace, and I let them become my superpowers.

~Skylar Grey

But do you ever think of me, when you lie? Lie down in your bed, your bed of lies.

~Skylar Grey

Expectations are an evil thing.

~Skylar Grey

My mom always puts a grapefruit in my stocking. I like grapefruit, but why put it in a stocking like it's a gift? It's almost as bad as coal.

~Skylar Grey

I write a lot about the past because I really see things clearly in hindsight.

~Skylar Grey

Writing songs for other people was never the goal for me.

~Skylar Grey

I think, honestly, that a lot of people think I'm sad and dark all the time, because of the music I have made. But there's a huge part of my personality that's really energetic, outgoing and goofy.

~Skylar Grey

Honestly, I don't recommend anyone get into music. If you have something else that you're good at, do that instead. This is a really tough world to live in.

~Skylar Grey

One of my biggest problems is I get bored too easily, and I like to experiment too much, to the point where I confuse myself and I confuse my fans.

~Skylar Grey

Since I started making music, it had always been for myself.

~Skylar Grey

The best songs for me come from the search for joy. You're in a negative place maybe, but you're still striving to improve yourself and find happiness.

~Skylar Grey

I realize that I really have to make music work for me as a career because I can't do anything else.

~Skylar Grey

I played trumpet in school once because I joined band because a cute boy played trumpet too. And I was really bad at trumpet.

~Skylar Grey

I moved out to L.A. when I was 17, dropped out of high school, and pursued a career in music.

~Skylar Grey

I feel like D.C. is one of the places in America that really holds on to history. The monuments inspire me, especially at night.

~Skylar Grey

I'm a shy person, so I get really nervous going into interviews.

~Skylar Grey

Alex [Da Kid] does have diversity, not just in what he produces, but what he hears. He has this knack for finding talented people.
