It's a great role for any age. Any actress wishes they would find a screenplay that means as much to them as "Aquarius" meant to me, as a person and a citizen.

~Sonia Braga

Sex appeal is in your heart and head. I'll be sexy no matter how old or how my body changes.

~Sonia Braga

The only thing I know is that we came from the stars, and that we have the same material as the stars. That's all that I know. Everything else I don't know.

~Sonia Braga

I grew up in a very open-minded family. My father died when I was very little, so my mother was really, really incredibly busy trying to provide for us.

~Sonia Braga

To be naked or even making love in a scene to me is very important if this is a movie about a couple or sensuality. It's a sort of moralism to think that this shouldn't be seen in the film.

~Sonia Braga

We can bring to characters dark and bright sides that nobody even dreams about.

~Sonia Braga

Everybody else is going to react differently to the film [Aquarius], but what I love about it is that both men and women are going to react to it because they will find themselves represented.

~Sonia Braga

And getting older, what's happening is, I play only mothers.

~Sonia Braga

I didn't want to overstate anything, but at the same time, the scene expands on some of the themes in the film ["Aquarius"].

~Sonia Braga

Ultimately, you just have to do what feels right for the film. It really helps when you have great collaborators like my editor, Eduardo Serrano, who kept telling me various scenes should be longer.

~Sonia Braga

These 150-minute superhero films that Hollywood is making are so concerned with their length that each scene doesn't have the time it needs to make sense.

~Sonia Braga

I didn't like the script [of Aquarius], I loved it.

~Sonia Braga

We did receive some questions about the film's [Aquarius] sexuality in Cannes, but they came from the press rather than audiences.

~Sonia Braga

The way I see it, I belong to the film as any other department.

~Sonia Braga

I like visual arts, and what I love doing is participating in the making of it.

~Sonia Braga

I'm scared of rehearsals, I'm scared of doing all this because I don't feel like I'm an actress.

~Sonia Braga

Today we find many actors, they are Latin, they are Hispanic, they are living in the Unites States, they are American, but very rarely you find them in a lead role.

~Sonia Braga

It always surprises me when I see the director's versions of films released separately, long after the film's theatrical run.

~Sonia Braga

It makes sense that somebody told you that you made the film from your perspective as a father.

~Sonia Braga

I'm not saying that we need more stories about people of a certain age, we just need more great stories about people.

~Sonia Braga

I have two kids now and through watching them, I keep having flashbacks to my own childhood.

~Sonia Braga

I think of a movie as a human body. You can feel the pump of the heart and the blood going through the veins when you watch that scene.

~Sonia Braga

You can keep yourself alive. That's the magic of being an actor.

~Sonia Braga

Women at my age they are making love, they are feeling sensual, they flirt, they have boyfriends, they have a sexual life. They are just not being represented in the movies.

~Sonia Braga

I'm 47 now, and I'm at that stage where I'm still young but I'm not young. I'm not old but I'm getting old, and I have stuff at home that reminds me of people and places.

~Sonia Braga

It's like I'm stuck in a time bubble. Memories keep coming back, and of course, memories are a huge part of literature and cinema, from "Stand by Me" to "Blade Runner."

~Sonia Braga

I just hope the film [Aquarius] doesn't feel overly nostalgic because too much nostalgia for me leads to depression. I think Clara is very pragmatic.

~Sonia Braga

I think anybody who was ever saddened by a movie theater closing would be able to understand this film [Aquarius].

~Sonia Braga

The ruins of classic movie theaters are a personal obsession of mine, and I've made a couple of documentaries about it.

~Sonia Braga

The film [Aquarius"] is very, very successful. We had the highest per-screen average of last week's releases.

~Sonia Braga

["Aquarius"] it had a bit of a rocky arrival in cinemas because we were given the 18+ rating, which did not make any sense in terms of the Brazilian rating system for a film like this.

~Sonia Braga

The rating [of "Aquarius"] was eventually brought down to 16 after the third appeal. Everything blew up after the second appeal because the press picked it up and spurred suspicions of persecution.

~Sonia Braga

When I wrote the script [of "Aquarius"], it seemed to hold people's interest.
