Some things are best left a blur. Births and Visa Bills.

~Sophie Kinsella

When I shop, the world gets better, and the world is better, but then it's not, and I need to do it again. (Confessions of a Shopaholic-the movie)

~Sophie Kinsella

I chose to publish the first 'Shopaholic' book under a pseudonym because I wanted it to be judged on its own merits.

~Sophie Kinsella

There's no luck in business. There's only drive, determination, and more drive.

~Sophie Kinsella

Life is like an escalator. You see, it carries you on regardless. And you might as well enjoy the view and seize every opportunity while you're passing. Otherwise, it'll be too late.

~Sophie Kinsella

I had a craving for pineapple and a pink cardigan" - Becky Bloomwood
Shopaholic and Baby

~Sophie Kinsella

Our eyes met in the math class. How were we to know that trigonometry would lead to matrimony?

~Sophie Kinsella

This is what happens. You tell your friends your most personal secrets, and they use them against you.

~Sophie Kinsella

I love new clothes. If everyone could just wear new clothes everyday, I reckon depression wouldn't exist anymore.

~Sophie Kinsella

Wow. I've never been a VIP before. I've never even been a IP.

~Sophie Kinsella

Look into your heart- and go after what you really want.

~Sophie Kinsella

It's like I'm thirteen again and he's my crush. All I'm aware of in this entire roomful of people is him. Where he is, what he's doing, who he's talking to.

~Sophie Kinsella

Honestly, it's so easy to get what you want from people if they think you're a psycho.

~Sophie Kinsella

Life would be a lot easier if conversations were rewindable and erasable, like videos. Or if you could instruct people to disregard what you just said, like in a courtroom.

~Sophie Kinsella

sometimes you don't need a goal in life, you don't need to know the big picture. you just need to know what you're going to do next!

~Sophie Kinsella

The truth is, some relationships are supposed to last forever, and some are only supposed to last a few days. That's the way life is.

~Sophie Kinsella

I'm blushing at my own stupid, nonsensical, meaningless thought process, which, by the way, nobody knows about except me.

~Sophie Kinsella

So I buy it. The most perfect little cardigan in the world. People will call me the Girl in the Gray Cardigan. I'll be able to live in it. Really, it's an investment.

~Sophie Kinsella

The trouble with giving yourself a pep talk is, that deep down you know it's all bullshit.

~Sophie Kinsella

The thing with giving up is you never know. You never know whether you could have done the job. And I'm sick of not knowing about my life.

~Sophie Kinsella

Once you've started cheating, does it really matter what your methods are?

~Sophie Kinsella

I'm allergic to family occasions. Sometimes I think we'd do better as dandelion seeds-no family, no history, just floating off into the world, each on our own piece of fluff.

~Sophie Kinsella

In the end, you have to choose whether or not to trust someone.

~Sophie Kinsella

Honestly, shopping beats therapy, anytime. It costs the same and you get a dress out of it.

~Sophie Kinsella

Never give up on something you really want. However impossible things seem, there's always a way.

~Sophie Kinsella

You fall in and out of love, but when you really love someone...it's forever.

~Sophie Kinsella

People who want to make a million borrow a million first

~Sophie Kinsella

There's no such thing as ruining your life. Life's a pretty resilient thing, it turns out.

~Sophie Kinsella

You can't just switch off your feelings because the other person did.

~Sophie Kinsella

We all fail to appreciate each day just how much we already possess. Light, air, freedom, the companionship of friends.

~Sophie Kinsella

My life has changed, and I'm changing with it.

~Sophie Kinsella

If you can't be honest with your friends and colleagues and loved ones, then what is life all about?

~Sophie Kinsella

And maybe now you'll start treating everybody with respect. Not just the people you think are important.

~Sophie Kinsella

It's just the way things are. And you can't dwell on what might have been. You have to look at what is.

~Sophie Kinsella

A real relationship is two-way.

~Sophie Kinsella

she doesn't really have a sense of humor. I think she'd like to have oneâ€”it's just that she doesn't quite understand what jokes are for.

~Sophie Kinsella

Everyone's moving on without me, into a world I don't understand.

~Sophie Kinsella

Like most of us, I'm used to juggling about 52 roles in life. Wife. Mother. Sister. Friend. Author. Sometimes I feel a bit 'multiple-personality'.

~Sophie Kinsella

Every time I mention her, Magnus says, "Are you two getting along?" in raised, hopeful tones, like we're endangered pandas who need to make a baby.

~Sophie Kinsella

If my writing comes to a halt, I head to the shops: I find them very inspirational. And if I get into real trouble with my plot, I go out for a pizza with my husband.

~Sophie Kinsella

I'll show Luke I can fit into the city. I'll show him I can be a true New Yorker. I'll go the gym, and then I'll eat a bagel, and I'll ... shoot someone, maybe? Or maybe just the gym will be enough.

~Sophie Kinsella

I did a lot of shopping for her in Tokyo because the colors here are very conservative. A shopaholic would have a coat in every color and lots of accessories

~Sophie Kinsella

We're on this planet for too short a time. And at the end of the day, what's more important? Knowing that a few meaningless figures balancedâ€”or knowing that you were the person you wanted to be?

~Sophie Kinsella

Our whole family thrives under pressure. It's like our family motto or something. Apart from my brother Peter, of course. He had a nervous break down. But the rest of us.

~Sophie Kinsella

Shopping is actually very similar to farming a field. You can't keep buying the same thing, you have to have a bit of variety. Otherwise you get bored and stop enjoying yourself.

~Sophie Kinsella

To have someone who never makes a mistake, never finds her personal life in disarray, never worries about work-life balance? I think that would be unreal. What I'm writing is real.

~Sophie Kinsella

My voice is clotted with unshed tears.

~Sophie Kinsella

Don't think about it. Don't think about what could have been. It's too unbearable.

~Sophie Kinsella

And we spend the rest of the evening getting very pissed and eating ice cream, as we always do when something good or bad happens to either one of us.

~Sophie Kinsella

I've always had this deep-down conviction that I'm not like everybody else, and there's an amazingly exciting new life waiting for me just around the corner.

~Sophie Kinsella

If you want something you can't afford, think what else that money could buy: a week's groceries, a month's rent, or a weekend away. That will put things into perspective.

~Sophie Kinsella

You never know how things are going to turn out, however much you plan. But you already know that.

~Sophie Kinsella

There's genuine pain in Eric's eyes. And I feel a stab of guilt. But you can't stay with people because of guilt.

~Sophie Kinsella

Suddenly I've had enough of all this. I've had enough of being made to feel insecure and paranoid and wondering what's going on

~Sophie Kinsella

Jeez Louise. I know why rich people are so thin: it's from trekking around their humongous houses the whole time.

~Sophie Kinsella

I've never written a children's book, but when people meet me for the first time and I say I write books, they invariably reply, 'Children's books?' Maybe it's something about my face.

~Sophie Kinsella

I can see the warmth. He's falling for me.

~Sophie Kinsella

Everyone keeps saying I'll pick it up. But what if I don't? I did algebra for three years, and I never picked that up.

~Sophie Kinsella

Still, that's the point of love; you love someone despite their flaws.

~Sophie Kinsella

Your father always tries to see the good side of people; to find the excuse. But sometimes there isn't a good side. There isn't an excuse. (Mom - to Lara Lington)

~Sophie Kinsella

...you may be able to sway people's heads. But you can't sway their hearts.

~Sophie Kinsella

Oh, this shouldn't be allowed. There should be a rule which says that people you've met in the gym should never meet you in real life.

~Sophie Kinsella

I'm sitting at the dinner table, wearing my future mother-in-law's underwear. It's like some twisted dream that you wake up and thinkL Crikey Moses! Thank God that didn't really happen!

~Sophie Kinsella

If your life's at a juncture and you need to think about things, there's nowhere better than home. However old you are.

~Sophie Kinsella

I'll have to admit, he really does have quite a smile. Kind of heart-stopping, especially as it comes out of nowhere. I mean... you know. If your heart was in the kind of place to be stopped.

~Sophie Kinsella

Sam doesn't hesitate for a minute. 'You say, "Mr and Mrs Tavish, you're making me feel inferior. Do you really think I'm inferior or is it just in my mind?'

~Sophie Kinsella

There are moments in life that the white-chocolate Magnum ice cream was invented for, and this is one of them.

~Sophie Kinsella

I mean, when I think about it, what's more important? Clothes - or the miracle of new life?

~Sophie Kinsella

If it's in the bin, it's public property.

~Sophie Kinsella

I'm an impulse buyer. I don't really go out with a list.

~Sophie Kinsella

Obviously this is engagement ring city. Couples are wandering along and girls are pointing through the windows and the men are smiling but all look slightly sick whenever their girlfriends turn away.

~Sophie Kinsella

I can't get over this. Dad isn't Sam's dad? Dad is a friend? How was I supposed to know that? People shouldn't be allowed to sign themselves as Dad unless they are your dad. It should be the law.

~Sophie Kinsella

I bet he never goes on YouTube. He's too busy. It's only tragic cases like you and me who are always online.

~Sophie Kinsella

If you look good, you feel good!

~Sophie Kinsella

I can't cook. I don't have the right brain for it, somehow. I can't walk into a room and tidy it up. I get distracted. I pick up one thing and I start looking at it. And my cooking is truly heinous.

~Sophie Kinsella

That's the trouble with having the whole world love you. One day, you wake up and it's flirting with your best friend instead. And you don't know what to do. You're thrown.

~Sophie Kinsella

I know this is our honeymoon. But just sometimes, I wish Luke was a girl.

~Sophie Kinsella

Everyone knows the first rule of business is "Look good during confrontations." Or if it isn't, it should be.

~Sophie Kinsella

Women need chocolate. It's a scientific fact.

~Sophie Kinsella

The thing about lying to your parents is, you have to do it to protect them. It's for their own good.

~Sophie Kinsella

Maybe my identity's been stolen. Or maybe I was sleep-shopping!

~Sophie Kinsella

A mistake isn't a mistake unless it can't be put right.

~Sophie Kinsella

That's the way it goes. Some things happen and some things don't. This one is obviously just wasn't meant to be. Except deep down... I still believe it was.

~Sophie Kinsella

It really is the year 2007. Which means I must be... Oh my God. I'm twenty-eight. I'm old.

~Sophie Kinsella

Sometimes, when I can't get to sleep, I imagine all the rules I'd invent if I ever got to be in charge of the world.

~Sophie Kinsella

But you can't stay with people because of guilt. Or because they can drive a speedboat.

~Sophie Kinsella

All this time, I wasn't hungry for success, I was hungry.

~Sophie Kinsella

Relationships are all about trust and equality. If one person shares, then the other person should share, too.

~Sophie Kinsella

They said I was a valued customer. Now they send me hate mail.

~Sophie Kinsella

Books are educational; so you can buy as many as you want." Sophie Kinsella, shopping at the Limelight Marketplace

~Sophie Kinsella
