There's only room for one dominant female in the McMahon family... and that's me!

~Stephanie McMahon

I think anybody has, regardless of your gender, we all have equal value if you have value to bring and value to provide, you just have to be willing to use your voice.

~Stephanie McMahon

A lot of brands just push messages out on social media, but that's not what social is about.

~Stephanie McMahon

These people want you to quit just like CM Punk did.

~Stephanie McMahon

Social is about engaging, it's about a conversation, it's about listening and then responding, it's an ongoing conversation with our fan base.

~Stephanie McMahon

The number one quality is charisma. You have to be able to connect with the audience. That is that magic "it" factor that designates a star from someone who is just never going to be a star.

~Stephanie McMahon

UFC is not a competitor to the WWE because we are entertainment and UFC is competitive sport. It's very different.

~Stephanie McMahon

Oh, I don't know about that, Jericho. See, when it comes to the bedroom, The Game always came up a little bit... short.

~Stephanie McMahon

Whether you're a mother or father, or a husband or a son, or a niece or a nephew or uncle, breast cancer doesn't discriminate.

~Stephanie McMahon

But in a game, you have a pocket forming, your vision is better and - at least for me - I just get a better feel for what I'm doing.

~Stephanie McMahon

It's taboo for me to date wrestlers [on her father's opinion of her dating wrestlers].

~Stephanie McMahon

There are several key pieces to keeping audiences engaged, and the evolution of that. One of them, mostly importantly really, is to have a brand that has purpose and value.

~Stephanie McMahon

I kicked a boy in the shins in second grade for making fun of my father.

~Stephanie McMahon

UFC, they can make a big star but the second that person loses, they lose credibility, and how do you continue to make that star rise?

~Stephanie McMahon

I was not allowed to date wrestlers, or anyone else in the company, across the board.
