The ratio of people to cake is too big.

~Stephen Root

When I worked with Robin Williams, now there is improv! He is just as funny as you think he is. We did at least five or six takes of every scene, improvising every scene differently. He was a riot.

~Stephen Root

I would have to say News Radio is the highlight of my career. I love the character so much.

~Stephen Root

It's fun to do voiceover work, although you still have to act. But it doesn't involve memorizing lines, and you don't have to dress up.

~Stephen Root

I'm from New York, so I'm a big Howard Stern fan.

~Stephen Root

In order for comedy to be funny you have to play the truth of the moment. But if you're not being completely truthful to the basis of the character, its not going to be funny.

~Stephen Root

My whole career, I've tried to bounce back and forth between everything, and not get typed out. I've done a pretty good job of not getting typed.

~Stephen Root

Movies are an editor's medium.

~Stephen Root

The more you work, the more people see your work and would like to work with you, and vice versa.

~Stephen Root

You have to remind casting directors out here that you don't just do one thing. There's a lot of people who do just one thing.

~Stephen Root

My goal as an actor was to work - to be a working actor, whether it was in theater, and, well, I didn't even consider film and television when I was in New York, but what came along, came along.

~Stephen Root

It's good for you to go somewhere that you wouldn't normally go.

~Stephen Root

I've been able to do a lot of interesting things.

~Stephen Root

I'm thrilled to get hired every once in a while.

~Stephen Root

I don't aspire to direct like many actors. I would aspire most likely to do some writing, but I haven't had a chance to do that.

~Stephen Root

I was a big comic book fan from 13 on.

~Stephen Root

I'm lucky I get to work a lot.
