Our Parliamentary system has simply failed to meet the challenge of judicial activism.

~Stockwell Day

I am more convinced than ever that a lively two party system is essential to our democracy.

~Stockwell Day

Canada is founded upon principles that recognize the supremacy of God and the rule of law.

~Stockwell Day

The same undisciplined government spending and social engineering that has undermined our economy over the past 30 years has also been tearing at the social fabric of this land.

~Stockwell Day

Homosexuality is a mental disorder that can be cured through counselling.

~Stockwell Day

Judges must be free from political intervention or intimidation.

~Stockwell Day

The typical journalist's typical lead for the typical Canadian story nowadays is along this line: that Canadians are hard at work trying to gain a reputation as a nation of rapid social change.

~Stockwell Day

I believe in freedom of speech, but I believe we should also have the right to comment on freedom of speech.

~Stockwell Day

Our two major parties are actually called the Liberal Party and the Conservative Party.

~Stockwell Day

It would be unthinkable in Canadian public life today for the public inauguration of our supreme political figures to be accompanied by prayer.

~Stockwell Day

The place to find the explanation for the liberal-activist mindset of the courts is in the political arena.

~Stockwell Day

It is said that a neo-conservative is a liberal who has been mugged by reality.

~Stockwell Day

The real intolerance in Canadian society is shown by those who would deny people of faith the right to participate in public life.

~Stockwell Day

People like myself say, 'Fix the problem. Put him in the general [prison] population. The moral prisoners will deal with him in a way we don't have the nerve to do.'

~Stockwell Day

Gun control responsibilities are taking police officers off the street and adding to crime.

~Stockwell Day

Standards of education are not set by government, but by God, the Bible, the home and the school.

~Stockwell Day

It is well known that I am pro-life... but I would not seek to impose my views on the Canadian people.

~Stockwell Day

Individuals have little opportunity to get elected to Parliament under the label of the government party... unless they are in good standing with the Prime Minister and pledged to be cooperative.

~Stockwell Day

For some decades now, it seems, there has been a ukase in place in American journalism to the effect that Canada is entitled to one story per season.

~Stockwell Day

Time and time again, history has proved that the conservatives are right and the liberals are wrong.

~Stockwell Day

Like 84% of Canadians, I believe in God.
