If you begin to think business whether you own it or work for it like you would a well managed sports team you will learn a lot of very interesting lessons

~Strive Masiyiwa

A vision on its own is not enough. Hard work and dedication is required to make that vision a reality.

~Strive Masiyiwa

Integrity is better capital than money. You can accumulate it just like money, and you can use it just like money, but it goes further, and is enduring.

~Strive Masiyiwa

The opportunity is in the problem. The moment I see a problem, I immediately begin to think about the opportunities that can be created by trying to solve it.

~Strive Masiyiwa

Being business minded requires you to always approach things with humility and respect.

~Strive Masiyiwa

If you are working or you are running a business you have to set aside time and money to invest in your continued formal education and skills acquisition.

~Strive Masiyiwa

Whether you're a farmer, builder or engineer, the opportunities are equal: Just add a little innovation.

~Strive Masiyiwa

I know no better way to show true patriotism and love for one's country, than investing to create wealth and employment.

~Strive Masiyiwa

You can only find opportunities if you are looking for them.

~Strive Masiyiwa

There is more to literacy than 'reading' and 'writing'.

~Strive Masiyiwa

If you are to be an effective nation builder, make it your business, to understand what is really happening in the economy, both nationally and globally.

~Strive Masiyiwa

No matter what business you are in, and no matter how small or mundane, the activities, there must be continuous investment in it.

~Strive Masiyiwa

If you say someone is good, at something, what is your benchmark? Who are you comparing them with? When evaluating capability, or success, in anything, don't listen to mumbo-jumbo rubbish.

~Strive Masiyiwa

God will do nothing except you pray; and you have to be clear what you want

~Strive Masiyiwa

An Organisation That Does Not Invest In Itself, Has No Future.

~Strive Masiyiwa

Entrepreneurship without skills limits your growth potential.

~Strive Masiyiwa

If we tackle corruption, no child would sleep hungry, there would be no injustice, every child would be in school.

~Strive Masiyiwa

We Africans are able to build companies that can operate in the global environment.
