Like the canary in the coal mine, the climate changes already evident in the Arctic are a call to action.

~Susan Collins

I'm pleased the administration is endorsing the need for legislation dealing with the chemical sector. In the past, the administration's position has been ambiguous.

~Susan Collins

Leaders are like gardeners ... As leaders we are not only responsible for harvesting our own success but for cultivating the success of the next generation.

~Susan Collins

Success is completion. Success is being able to complete what we set out to do - each individual action, each specific step, each desired experience whether a big project or a very small errand.

~Susan Collins

If you don't know what you want, you'll probably get what somebody else wants.

~Susan Collins

Loving isn't liking and it takes liking to live together.

~Susan Collins

The most precious contribution we can make here on Earth is to create the lives we want to be living, communicating in all ways, to everyone around us, that success is really possible.

~Susan Collins

What I find is with all due deference to - deference to our male colleagues, that women's styles tend to be more collaborative.

~Susan Collins

Many communities throughout the nation still do not have the communications infrastructure in place for first responders to communicate with one another during an emergency.

~Susan Collins

Our first responsibility as a leader is to create an attractive dream, to proclaim a destination, communicating it in detail to others who might be interested in joining our expedition.

~Susan Collins

I wouldn't trust any evidence that the Russians suggest that they could provide.

~Susan Collins

It is vital that our work be grounded in the evidence and thus accepted by the public.

~Susan Collins

When we're impatient with beginners around us, we would do well to sign up for a class in scuba diving, ballroom dancing or anything else totally brand-new for us.

~Susan Collins

An expert is anyone who can already do what we want to do.

~Susan Collins

Our success multiplies each time we lead someone else to success.

~Susan Collins

Eddie sees the big picture. He's clearly got a vision of how to make this thing the big event. And he never stops working. The minute [the tournament] is completed, he'll be thinking about next year.

~Susan Collins

Our vision was to serve the whole area

~Susan Collins

Getting a project started is like moving a ship. It takes a lot of energy to build up momentum.
