Difficulty creates the opportunity for self-reflection and compassion.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

Every play I write is about love and distance. And time. And from that we can get things like history.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

Each moment is perfect and heaven-sent, in that each moment holds the seeds for growth.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

I don't consciously start writing a play that involves issues. After it's done, I sit back like everyone else and think about what it means.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

I knew that I was learning one of the most important lessons of my life: that instead of waiting for the perfect opportunity, I should work toward a realization that every opportunity is perfect.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

You're only yourself when no one's watching!

~Suzan-Lori Parks

Quality is like quantity, but there's a lot less of it.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

And as you walk yr road, as you live yr life, RELISH THE ROAD. And relish the fact that the road of yr life will probably be a windy road.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

My father was in the Army and we moved around a lot, and one of my favorite places was the library.

~Suzan-Lori Parks

I love beautiful black-and-white movies - anything Bette Davis, especially Now, Voyager, Casablanca, Mildred Pierce; anything by Orson Welles, Truffaut, or Godard; and Paper Moon by Peter Bogdanovich.
