Many people continue to think of sharks as man-eating beasts. Sharks are enormously powerful and wild creatures, but you're more likely to be killed by your kitchen toaster than a shark!

~Ted Danson

I've found that eating vegan the last five or six months has really given me energy, I feel good and I look fabulous.

~Ted Danson

There should be a list of people who can and cannot clone themselves.

~Ted Danson

I don't think it's a matter of, do you win the game or not, it's how gracefully do you play it.

~Ted Danson

We only have ten years to save the oceans

~Ted Danson

How much do you engage yourself in what's truly real and important in life? That's the individual question.

~Ted Danson

We're not trying to reinvent the wheel; for any environmental organization to claim sole responsibility for any kind of victory is insane, because everybody attacks these problems as a group.

~Ted Danson

Sharks have swum the oceans for over 400 million years, but we're threatening this critically important species for the purpose of making soup - it's sad and wasteful.

~Ted Danson

I feel very strongly that you can't just beat people up anymore; you have to work hand in hand and find ways to compromise, and get big business involved, because it won't happen otherwise.

~Ted Danson

The environmental movement, like all political processes, reacts best to disasters. But these are very slow, very gradual disasters in the making.

~Ted Danson

We have a project with Unocal here in Los Angeles, where we as an environmental organization, the oil company, and the state all get together to promote the recycling of used motor oil.

~Ted Danson

The planet will survive. Whether we get to be here and enjoy it, or enjoy life as we've known it, is what's questionable.

~Ted Danson

Around year seven or eight, you'd kill yourself when you realized Norm had to enter and you had to come up with a new beer joke.

~Ted Danson

I let my [past] life in peripherally, because I'm interested in what's over there; I want to keep going forward.

~Ted Danson

You have to work with the auto industry, the oil companies, you have to work to develop renewable fuel, whether it's solar or different kinds of fuel.

~Ted Danson

One of the ingredients that made Cheers work so well was the great ensemble of actors we had. That's the case with any good series.

~Ted Danson

One person goes off and works in Houston the other person goes off to London and you're on the phone to each other and somebody is paying you to kiss somebody else. It's very bizarre being an actor.

~Ted Danson

The poor are too busy working to need justice.

~Ted Danson

If you actively do something, it will stop making you feel like a victim and you'll start feeling like part of the solution, which is just a huge benefit to your body and your psyche.

~Ted Danson

I am forever grateful for Cheers.

~Ted Danson

I had trouble hanging around [Shelley Long] until we stood onstage together, and then I was in heaven.

~Ted Danson

It is important to remember that the ocean's resources are finite. The commitment these kids are making here today is a clear and compelling call to all of us to pay attention to our ocean.
