The United States Supreme Court has repeatedly held that marriage is one of the most fundamental rights that we have as Americans under our Constitution.

~Ted Olson

The reality is that our independent judiciary is the most respected branch of our government and the envy of the world.

~Ted Olson

She said it had been hijacked shortly after takeoff. By this time, the plane had been in the air - again, I'm presuming that it took off on time - for over an hour.

~Ted Olson

It's easy to imagine an infinite number of situations where the government might legitimately give out false information.

~Ted Olson

My wife had taken off on a plane. Two airplanes had crashed into the World Trade Center. I, of course, like any other person, felt potentially devastated, panicky a little bit.

~Ted Olson

The very idea of marriage is basic to recognition as equals in our society any status short of that is inferior, unjust, and unconstitutional.

~Ted Olson

No one aspires as a child to grow up and enter into a domestic partnership. But they do aspire as children to grow up and be married.

~Ted Olson

Well, she managed to - Barbara was capable of doing practically anything if she set her mind to it. In retrospect, I'm not surprised that Barbara managed to get collect calls through.

~Ted Olson

Would you like Fox's right to free press put up to a vote and say well, if five states have approved it, let's wait till the other 45 states do?
