Anger is a more noble emotion than indifference.

~Terry Rossio

You should quit trying only after two conditions have been met: 1.) You've given yourself a legitimate shot. 2.) Trying is no longer fun.

~Terry Rossio

My lousy way of getting it done is better than your great way of not doing it.

~Terry Rossio

Self-esteem is the prize awarded by you to you for playing by your own rules - in which case, you'd think it would be easier to come by.

~Terry Rossio

You are an adult when, faced with important decisions, you choose to have more faith in yourself than anything else.

~Terry Rossio

The resolve to diet is most easily summoned on a full stomach.

~Terry Rossio

Success is less rare than the courage to attempt it.

~Terry Rossio

How do we not rue the many unchosen paths in life? A blessed lack of imagination. There are enough real glories along any path to swamp our meager ability to picture alternatives.

~Terry Rossio

Talent is truth on display.

~Terry Rossio

Personal happiness is so important, most choose to let someone else

take care of it.

~Terry Rossio

A fool harvests his opinions in the spring.

~Terry Rossio

Most will choose to leave someone who can't bear to see them go.

~Terry Rossio

Mistakes are the byproduct of action - and thus an accurate gauge of effort.

~Terry Rossio

Once learned, the ability to disagree with a smile pays valuable dividends for a lifetime.

~Terry Rossio

It's easier to be old than young. You make just as many blunders, but you've become much more adept at not recognizing them.

~Terry Rossio

A child should have every advantage - including those taught by disadvantage.

~Terry Rossio

You must -- you MUST -- choose well.
