As God by creation made two of one, so again by marriage He made one of two.

~Thomas Adams

Grace comes into the soul as the morning sun into the world: there is first a dawning, then a mean light, and at last the sun in his excellent brightness.

~Thomas Adams

That which a man spits against heaven, shall fall back on his own face.

~Thomas Adams

Prevention is so much better than healing because it saves the labor of being sick.

~Thomas Adams

No man more truly loves God than he that is most fearful to offend Him.

~Thomas Adams

A man may be so bold of his predestination, that he forget his conversation.

~Thomas Adams

He who reforms himself, has done much toward reforming others; and one reason why the world is not reformed, is, because each would have others make a beginning, and never thinks of himself doing it.

~Thomas Adams

The hypocrite, certainly, is a secret atheist; for if he did believe there was a God, he durst not be so bold as to deceive Him to His face.

~Thomas Adams

He who demands mercy and shows none ruins the bridge over which he himself is to pass.

~Thomas Adams

He who is proud of his knowledge, has gout in the wrong end.

~Thomas Adams

Satan like a fisher, baits his hook according to the appetite of the fish.

~Thomas Adams

Our mind is where our pleasure is, our heart is where our treasure is, our love is where our life is, but all these, our pleasure, treasure, and life, are reposed in Jesus Christ.

~Thomas Adams

Passion costs me too much to bestow it on every trifle.

~Thomas Adams

The covetous man pines in plenty, like Tantalus up to the chin in water, and yet thirsty.

~Thomas Adams

There is no coming to heaven with dry eyes.

~Thomas Adams

Self-righteousness is the devil's masterpiece to make us think well of ourselves.

~Thomas Adams

Will you trust your five senses above the four Gospels?

~Thomas Adams

Beauty is like an almanack: if it lasts a year it is well.

~Thomas Adams

Let us not make the poor our friends by our alms, not our enemies by our scorns. We had better have the ears of God full of their prayers, than heaps of money in our own coffers with their curses.

~Thomas Adams

Sins are so remitted, as if they had never been committed.

~Thomas Adams

Death is as near to the young as to the old; here is all the difference: death stands behind the young man's back, before the old man's face.

~Thomas Adams

Woman takes her being from man, man takes his well being from woman.

~Thomas Adams

The ambitious climb high and perilous stairs, and never care how to come down; the desire of rising hath swallowed up their fear of a fall.

~Thomas Adams

Baptizing them in the name of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. The Father, Son, and Holy Ghost: there are three distinct persons: in the Name, not names; there is one essence.

~Thomas Adams

If thou wilt fly from God, the devil will lend thee both spurs and a horse.

~Thomas Adams

Ever tell me of a humble heart where I see a stubborn knee.

~Thomas Adams

The covetous man is like a camel with a great hunch on his back; heaven's gate must be made Higher and broader, or he will hardly get in.

~Thomas Adams

Alas! that the farthest and of all our thoughts should be the thought of our ends.

~Thomas Adams

Conscience is God's deputy in the soul.

~Thomas Adams

Half our virtue arises from our being out of the way of temptation.

~Thomas Adams

He who sends the storm steers the vessel.

~Thomas Adams

Better a holy discord than a profane concord.

~Thomas Adams

Blessed be God, I not only begin praying when I kneel down, but I do not leave off praying when I rise up.

~Thomas Adams

The devil makes his Christmas-pie of lawyers' tongues and clerks' fingers.

~Thomas Adams

His father was no man's friend but his own, and he is no man's for else.
