I didn't plan on being a single mom, but you have to deal with the cards you are dealt the best way you can.

~Tichina Arnold

I used to go with solid blue, but recently I've found that a mix of red and green is a better fit for my personality.

~Tichina Arnold

An innocent little human being was solely dependent on me! I took all the CPR and breastfeeding classes and learned quite a bit.

I like seeing things that you don't normally see. Black people are so diverse, we do so many things, we have given so much to this world - and we are constantly giving.

~Tichina Arnold

There are some universal elements when it comes to motherhood - especially for Black moms. Black women are selfless. Many women think of their children before they think about themselves.

~Tichina Arnold

Everybody's problem is not yours, regardless of marriage and relationships, and I think women sometimes have to shed "what we think it should be" and address "what it is".

~Tichina Arnold

While there's plenty to be said for drive and talent, it was my parents' support that started me on the path that led me here today.
