Pain is inevitable, but misery is optional. We cannot avoid pain, but we can avoid joy.

~Tim Hansel

The disillusionment with our own abilities is, perhaps, one of the most important things that can ever happen to us.

~Tim Hansel

One of the ways that our faith expresses itself is by our ability to be still, to be present, and not to panic or lose perspective. God still does his best work in the most difficult of circumstances.

~Tim Hansel

Life becomes precious and more special to us when we look for the little everyday miracles and get excited about the privileges of simply being human

~Tim Hansel

It's not so much what happens to us, as what happens in us that counts.

~Tim Hansel

Our theology must become biography.

~Tim Hansel

There is no better education than your own failures, if you've the eyes to see. We must have the courage to fail. It's evidence that we're risking to be our best.

~Tim Hansel

Learning patience takes a lot of patience!

~Tim Hansel

It takes time to be a good father. It takes effort - trying, failing, and trying again.

~Tim Hansel

I believe that pain and suffering can either be a prison or a prism.

~Tim Hansel

Most of us have enough excuses to last a lifetime. The sooner we let go of them and get on with living, the better off we are.

~Tim Hansel

All of our theology must eventually become biography.

~Tim Hansel

Necessity is the author of change.

~Tim Hansel

Life is really fun, if only we gave it a chance.
