You are either a Zionist or an anti-Zionist.

~Tom Paulin

I think protest and actions have to be organised against the Israelis and their backers. There needs to be a concerted high profile campaign to raise awareness of the people in this country.

~Tom Paulin

I am not very moved by historical apologies.

~Tom Paulin

I think attacks on civilians in fact boost morale.

~Tom Paulin

I don't think the British carry a historical consciousness either.

~Tom Paulin

I think ideas should be flying about and banging into each other. It is a kind of energy. If you occupy static positions, then things sort of ossify.

~Tom Paulin

A truly vibrant and creative culture depends on a system of education which is not divided along class and sectarian lines.

~Tom Paulin

All I do is read books, really. I worry about that sometimes. I don't seem to have a hobby or anything.

~Tom Paulin

I never believed that Israel had the right to exist at all.

~Tom Paulin

I wish I could write lyrical poems, but I just write the way they come.

~Tom Paulin

Didn't I seize the fire of ideas and make them leap, tear, fly, sing

~Tom Paulin

I'm kind of domestic, untidily so.

~Tom Paulin

Everyone who supports Israel is a Zionist.

~Tom Paulin

Hitler bombed London into submission but in fact it created a sense of national solidarity.

~Tom Paulin

I always feel freelance writers are leading a heroic life. I think that is the real writer's life. On the other hand, it's good to have another job. It gives you something to do.
