Learning by doing is the only way I know how to learn.

~Tony Fadell

People buy products, and they want to understand what those things are and how they are applicable to their life.

~Tony Fadell

The truth is, homes change over time â€” and technology has to adapt, not try to do everything at once.

~Tony Fadell

Over the next ten years, everything that has a cord is going to have data in it.

~Tony Fadell

Usually, the biggest companies are not the most dynamic.

~Tony Fadell

We built the iPod in weeks. It had to be what I thought it was going to be because there wasn't time for endless refinements.

~Tony Fadell

I've been working with contractors designing and building a house on a nonstop basis since I learned about all these systems of audio, construction, electricity, energy, water systems.

~Tony Fadell

I started designing the greenest the most connected home before the iPhone and the iPad.
