A lot of times, you feel like you're walking on eggshells in a creative environment, because everyone's having to watch out for egos so much of the time.

~Tony Hale

The only bipartisan place in D.C. is Brooks Brothers.

~Tony Hale

It's very rare to have rehearsal time on a television show: You get scripts, you show up, and you do it.

~Tony Hale

I always admire people who do commercials because they have to put together a beginning, a middle, and an end in 30 seconds.

~Tony Hale

There are things that can only be said with a good string of cussing. I'm definitely fond of a few choice words. They say things that nothing else can say. Gotta love it.

~Tony Hale

My family was very supportive of whatever I wanted because my grandfather was an opera singer. My dad's dad. So my dad has an appreciation for the arts, and he let me choose my own path.

~Tony Hale

If a D.C. event doesn't have crab cakes, it's low-rent and you need to flee.

~Tony Hale

I've had the opportunity to do a wide range of stuff, a lot of different characters and they've all had their own kind of thing.
