You might not make it to the top, but if you are doing what you love, there is much more happiness there than being rich or famous.

~Tony Hawk

I won't quit skating until I am physically unable.

~Tony Hawk

I believe that people should take pride in what they do, even if it is scorned or misunderstood by the public at large.

~Tony Hawk

Being different is awesome! All of those who are different are more interesting than those who are clamoring for acceptance because they follow the path.

~Tony Hawk

My definition of success is doing what you love. I feel many people do things because they feel they have to, and are hesitant to risk following their passion.

~Tony Hawk

I feel like skateboarding is as much of a sport as a lifestyle, and an art form, so there's so much that that transcends in terms of music, fashion, and entertainment.

~Tony Hawk

I love snowboarding, but I would never want to do it competitively or at a professional level. Snowboarding is a spawn of skating, and skating is my passion.

~Tony Hawk

Snowboarding is a spawn of skating, and skating is my passion.

~Tony Hawk

I consider skateboarding an art form, a lifestyle and a sport. 'Action sport' would be the least offensive categorization.

~Tony Hawk

The irony about selling out is that they only call you a sell-out when your stuff finally sells - I've had products bearing my name since I was 14, but nobody was buying them then.

~Tony Hawk

I love the fact that there is now a skate park in almost every city, but it will always have a rebellious/underground edge to it because it is based on individuality.

~Tony Hawk

Big decisions in my life have always come easy and are made without hesitation. It is easier for me to make a life-changing decision than to decide what to get for dessert.

~Tony Hawk

When your daughter asks you to be a fairy for her 5th birthday party... you better be a damned fairy.

~Tony Hawk

For those that say I endanger my child: it's more likely that you will fall while walking on the sidewalk than I will while skating with my daughter.

~Tony Hawk

The biggest lesson I learned from my dad is to support children even if they're doing something that is unorthodox.

~Tony Hawk

Skateistan's not just about skating. It's giving people life skills and hope for the future.

~Tony Hawk

I wanted to promote skateboarding as much as possible through different media.

~Tony Hawk

In ramp skating, theres this guy Alex Perelson whos really coming into his own and doing some amazing new stuff we havent seen before. Just different types of spin.

~Tony Hawk

I think skateboarding is hugely challenging - it teaches you self-confidence, it teaches you self-motivation, and it can be something that helps you throughout your life.

~Tony Hawk

I started skateboarding at around age 10, and enjoyed the artistic aspect of it as much as the sporting aspect, so for me it was more of an art form and a lifestyle.

~Tony Hawk

All I care about is that people remember me as a good skater, as someone who was innovative.

~Tony Hawk

Most of my friends are skaters or were skaters at one time, so they obviously relate.

~Tony Hawk

Most snarky critics had their minds set before ever seeing/playing the game. I'm proud of what we created; it's innovative, responsive & fun.

~Tony Hawk

I played team sports, but I never felt like I fitted in that well, so this allowed me to be part of a community but to do it in my own way.
