

Tucker Carlson Quotes

*People, Thinking, War, Country, Mean, Canada, Men, Party, Support, Government, Drunk, Believe, Important, United States, Dog, New York, Real,
Hurt, Feminist, Cutting*

I have no way of knowing how people really feel, but the vast majority of those I meet couldn't be nicer. Every once in a while someone barks at me. My New Year's resolution is not to bark back.

~Tucker Carlson

I was up late last night yapping about the elections on CNN and up early this morning doing the same thing in my daughter's kindergarten class.

~Tucker Carlson

The modern tribalism of the left demands that each person choose a group and then agree with everything that group agrees with. And anybody who leaves that group is stoned to death.

~Tucker Carlson

Canada is a sweet country. It is like your retarded cousin you see at Thanksgiving and sort of pat him on the head. You know, he's nice, but you don't take him seriously. That is Canada.

~Tucker Carlson

Feminism's latest victory: the right to get your limbs blown off in war. Congratulations.

~Tucker Carlson

When you tie [Donald] Trump supporters to those groups [the American Nazi party and the KKK] that is a slur.

~Tucker Carlson

Anybody who sides with Canada internationally in a debate between the U.S. and Canada, say, Belgium, is somebody whose opinion we shouldn't care about in the first place.

~Tucker Carlson

Unless you know a lot more about something than I do, I am not really that interested. I have too much information already.

~Tucker Carlson

I think Michael Moore is loathsome, though, not because he dislikes Bush, but because he seems to dislike America.

~Tucker Carlson

It is nice to be around people who think differently than you. They challenge your ideas and keep you from being complacent.

~Tucker Carlson

It is increasingly important to be open-minded.

~Tucker Carlson

I will say, the one thing Mexico does well is punish prisoners. They do. They're good at that.

~Tucker Carlson

The war on Christmas. This is the most ridiculous right wing talking point I have ever lived through. The idea is that liberals want to get rid of Christmas.

~Tucker Carlson

I think [Pat] Buchanan is far too easily and glibly dismissed.

~Tucker Carlson

I don't think all people yearn for freedom, actually. I think they yearn for stability.

~Tucker Carlson

To be a feminist, you could cut your hair really short. You have to be really angry about something.

~Tucker Carlson

I have no time for political hacks who say things they don't believe because they get paid to.

~Tucker Carlson

The economic base of that rural Oregon area used to be manufacturing and logging. And that went away and they feel nobody has been speaking to them and finally Donald Trump has spoken to them.

~Tucker Carlson

I mean, look, no matter how you feel about Bush, watching him speak is difficult. It's like- it's like watching a drunk man cross an icy street.

~Tucker Carlson

American officials have bent over backwards to show how sensitive they are to Muslim culture. It didn't seem very effective. They seem to be worried about winning the respect of other people.

~Tucker Carlson

It's hard to be ambitious if you're content, isn't it?

~Tucker Carlson

If it was up to the U.N., Saddam Hussein would still be killing his own people.

~Tucker Carlson

Studies have shown people listen to TV than watch it.

~Tucker Carlson

To politicize a man's tragic death is about as low as you can go, isn't it?

~Tucker Carlson

That great philosopher anonymous once said, never argue with a fool. People might not know the difference.

~Tucker Carlson

In the absence of evidence, superstition. It's a Middle Ages thing. That's my theory anyway.

~Tucker Carlson

The Clinton era is over. I think that there would even have been a certain amount of rejoicing among some Republicans if Gore had won or if Ralph Nader had won or if Satan had won.

~Tucker Carlson

I can't wait to work for Rick Kaplan. He's a great producer. I would host an infomercial if he would produce it.

~Tucker Carlson

Yes, older drivers are more likely to injure themselves and others when they get behind the wheel. But if you take that away, that is really the last lifeline a lot of elderly people have.

~Tucker Carlson

Is calling English our national language racist? Are we at that point?

~Tucker Carlson

Nobody, at least sitting in my seat, is defending drunk driving. I am not for drunk driving.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm for moral blackmail when it comes to putting away child molesters.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm from rural Oregon, Yamhill County, a farm four miles out of a town of 1,000 people and that town is overwhelmingly pro-Trump.

~Tucker Carlson

Billy Tauzin is one of the most interesting people in Washington. He is smart, funny, and interesting.

~Tucker Carlson

I think Canadians, they may be offended that I pointed out that they're stalking us. But at least we're paying attention.

~Tucker Carlson

The American Nazi party and the KKK don't really exist in a meaningful way. They may have an office or website. But they are not tens of thousands of members.

~Tucker Carlson

Bush's America. I wish we had more time. I didn't even vote for him the second time, and I feel like I got to defend him.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm a small government conservative.

~Tucker Carlson

Life is short. You die before you think you're going to. Don't waste it in college unless you're doing something real. My view.

~Tucker Carlson

I definitely don't want to make Nicholas Kristof defend your employer, no one should have to do that but a sincere question.

~Tucker Carlson

I think I always stand up for what I believe in.

~Tucker Carlson

Everybody knows that only creeps put cameras in the bathroom.

~Tucker Carlson

I also think it's important not to demonize [Donald] Trump voters.

~Tucker Carlson

Every single comedian in Canada is now living in the United States.

~Tucker Carlson

Bill Clinton is a liar, a perverted kind of a guy anyway, and he is always stroking black folks rather than telling them the truth.

~Tucker Carlson

Canadians are always asking the questions the rest of us are afraid to ask.

~Tucker Carlson

Angelina Jolie seems like she cries a lot, which puts me off.

~Tucker Carlson

England, Australia, Israel, a few staunch, important allies internationally. But we have lost a lot of international support.

~Tucker Carlson

Rich people making their houses bigger in order to make their lives happier wind up hurting their own marriages. There's a deep irony here. Do the couples perceive that irony?

~Tucker Carlson

Why is this generation looking to aging icons like John Lennon and Bob Dylan for inspiration? Why not raising up their own icons?

~Tucker Carlson

I believe my friends and neighbors there are misguided. I think they are not going to get what they hoped for. But they feel betrayed by the Democratic and Republican establishment.

~Tucker Carlson

You cannot compare me to somebody who makes apologies for Hitler. And I don't think Putin is comparable.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm not vouching for Putin's character, he seems like a shady guy. Hard to see why he's a threat was.

~Tucker Carlson

If you look at my columns I precisely said we have to avoid that. That it's important not to stereotype [Donald] Trump voters.

~Tucker Carlson

I would encourage people to go to NYTIMES.com and read this column and you can see for yourself.

~Tucker Carlson

Honestly, a lot of liberals are foot soldiers in the war on Christmas.

~Tucker Carlson

Anybody with any ambition at all, or intelligence, has left Canada and is now living in New York.

~Tucker Carlson

It's almost impossible to make the case that Bush is a conservative. That may be good; that may be bad.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm a foot soldier in the war on Christmas. And the war on puppies and sunshine.

~Tucker Carlson

I will avoid demonizing people who don't agree with me about this election.

~Tucker Carlson

To call me a partisan hack is ludicrous. [...] I am the least partisan person I know.

~Tucker Carlson

I have never been one to look beyond today.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm not for cutting off hands but I'm more for cutting off hands than I am for molesting children, if that's what it takes to stop it. I think that's fair.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm in the business of value judgments .

~Tucker Carlson

I was very disappointed, very disappointed when President [George W.] Bush proclaimed Kwanzaa as a national holiday. Prior to that, Bill Clinton did the same thing.

~Tucker Carlson

So you [Nicholas Kristof] have got this new column out, 12 steps for people who say are traumatized by the [Donald Trump] election.

~Tucker Carlson

Canada thinks we're married; we don't know it exists. Every time we tell Canada to knock it off, it just feeds the fire.

~Tucker Carlson

We're a very religious country; the government's secular.

~Tucker Carlson

Christianity isn't dead. It still has the capacity to scare people. It still gives people the creeps, which means there is still some power behind the religion, as sort of watered down as it can be.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm such a sap for democracy and politics that I get weepy when I see anybody voting.

~Tucker Carlson

Canadians are so easily wounded.

~Tucker Carlson

Canada, by others in the global family, is, for some reason, taken seriously. They have about 30 million people. They have some natural resources.

~Tucker Carlson

If you are a [Hillary] Clinton supporter if you have friends who voted for [Donald] Trump it's harder to demonize that person.

~Tucker Carlson

I am really only interested in new information, not freelance opinion. I don't really care what you think off the top of your head.

~Tucker Carlson

There's no suggestion of why people might have voted for [Donald] Trump.

~Tucker Carlson

We don't have enough folks who grew up in working class rural communities.

~Tucker Carlson

Who laughs less than feminists?

~Tucker Carlson

I very much like "Canada, the adults are talking" stance.

~Tucker Carlson

I'm just not sure I trust the federal government not to trample on civil liberties.

~Tucker Carlson

All of a sudden, people are going to decide they want to go micro, everything's smaller.

~Tucker Carlson

Television and the way we watch is going to change dramatically in the next year.

~Tucker Carlson

I don't notice any sympathy for them in [Nicholas Kristof] column. If you're writing a column saying the people for Trump are Nazis and Klansman and North Korean dictators.

~Tucker Carlson

I don't think that [they are bigots] of [Donald Trump] supporters. Those supporters are from my hometown - I understand that suffering. I have written about it repeatedly from my hometown.

~Tucker Carlson

Republicans can't run for office without the support of business.

~Tucker Carlson

The Republican Party of 2005 bears no resemblance to the Republican Party of 1994.

~Tucker Carlson

The best thing about television news is, it's immediate. Everything at a news network happens quickly.

~Tucker Carlson

I try to tell the truth.

~Tucker Carlson

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- War Quotes
- Country Quotes
- Mean Quotes
- Canada Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Party Quotes
- Support Quotes
- Government Quotes
- Drunk Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Important Quotes
- United States Quotes
- Dog Quotes
- New York Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Hurt Quotes
- Feminist Quotes
- Cutting Quotes