You know, I used to think I was a foodie, and then my wife went to culinary school and basically explained to me that I was just a guy that likes to eat.

~Ty Burrell

And I watch Saturday Night Live religiously, I have since I was a little boy. I watch it basically like one of my favorite sports teams.

~Ty Burrell

My younger brother and I have been writing together, mainly for fun, for years, but we've been improvising together since we were kids. Literally.

~Ty Burrell

There's lots of problem solving in any marriage, but when you have this collective goal that is a human being, it's an inspiring rally point.

~Ty Burrell

If you're trying to make something funny, and it doesn't feel like you're always getting something, it doesn't have quite a lot of joy.

~Ty Burrell

Comedy can be fun no matter what you're playing small or big comedy part. It always has the potential to be a blast.

~Ty Burrell

I've played a lot of really smarmy people in film, and it can be real fun, don't get me wrong. But it can be characters I'm not as excited to explore.

~Ty Burrell

I didn't know that there was such a thing as butter carving. But then, I poked around a little bit. A quick Google search will show you 55,000 images of butter carvings, and they're extraordinary.

~Ty Burrell

I just like comedy in general. My film work, which has been at times more dramatic, has been satisfying. But I never feel quite as good and as light and blissful as when I'm doing comedy.

My wife handles all of our technology. So if something goes wrong with the computer, I throw up my arms and step aside while the IT gal figures it out.

~Ty Burrell

My father passed away before he saw me perform. I can't help but wonder what he would think of all this. I go to a job in full makeup.

~Ty Burrell

I think once I fail enough as a dad, I'll be looking for help wherever I can get it. I just need enough time to screw things up and then I'll start looking to TV dads for advice.
