All I can guarantee you is that as long as you are searching for happiness, you will remain unhappy.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

There is no power outside of man. Man has created God out of fear. So the problem is fear and not God.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Nature is busy creating absolutely unique individuals, whereas culture has invented a single mold to which all must conform. It is grotesque.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

*Only if you reject all the other paths can you discover your own path.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

You think when you don't want to do anything. Thinking is a poor alternative to acting. Your thinking is consuming all your energy. Act, don't think!

~U.G. Krishnamurti

The plain fact is that if you don't have a problem, you create one. If you don't have a problem you don't feel that you are living.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

We are not created for any grander purpose than the ants that are there or the flies that are hovering around us or the mosquitoes that are sucking our blood.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

If anyone thinks he can help you, he will inevitably mislead you, and the less phony he is; the more powerful he is, the more enlightened he is, the more misery and mischief he will create for you.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

There is no such thing as truth. The only thing that is actually there is your 'logically' ascertained premise, which you call truth.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

It would be more interesting to learn from children, than try to teach them how to behave, how to live and how to function.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Nature is interested in only two things--to survive and to reproduce one like itself. Anything you superimpose on that, all the cultural input, is responsible for the boredom of man.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Thought can never capture the movement of life, it is much too slow.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Don't follow me, I'm lost.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Food, clothing and shelter " these are the basic needs. Beyond that, if you want anything, it is the beginning of self-deception.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Your constant utilization of thought to give continuity to your separate self is you. There is nothing there inside you other than that.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

The questioner has to come to an end. It is the questioner that creates the answer; and the questioner comes into being from the answer, otherwise there is no questioner.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

We don't want to be free from fear. All that we want to do is to play games with it and talk about freeing ourselves from fear.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

The body is not interested in anything you are interested in. And that is the battle that is going on all the time.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Your situation and prospects only seem hopeless because you have ideas of hope. Knock off that hope and the crippling feelings of helplessness go with it.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Society or culture or whatever you might want to call it, has created us all solely and wholly for the purpose of maintaining its continuity and status quo.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

There is no need to change this world at all; and there is no need to change yourself either.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

I am not anti-rational, just unrational. You may infer a rational meaning in what I say or do, but it is your doing, not mine.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

The fact is that we don't want to be free. What is responsible for our problems is the fear of losing what we have and what we know.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

If you have the courage to touch life for the first time, you will never know what hit you. Everything man has thought, felt and experienced is gone, and nothing is put in its place.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Yes! is the thing that blows the whole structure apart.

~U.G. Krishnamurti

You cannot experience the death of anybody

~U.G. Krishnamurti

Life has to be described in pure and simple physical and physiological terms. It must be demystified and depsychologised
