I've never understood the point of ecstasy. I think if I wanted to get dehydrated and jump about with a load of people I've never met before I could go to a Methodist barn dance.

~Victoria Wood

Jogging is for people who aren't intelligent enough to watch television.

~Victoria Wood

I once went to one of those parties where everyone throws their car keys into the middle of the room. I don't know who got my moped, but I drove that Peugeot for years.

~Victoria Wood

I know I've got a degree. Why does that mean I have to spend my life with intellectuals? I've got a lifesaving certificate but I don't spend my evenings diving for a rubber brick with my pyjamas on.

~Victoria Wood

Life's not fair, is it? Some of us drink champagne in the fast lane, and some of us eat our sandwiches by the loose chippings on the A597.

~Victoria Wood

All my friends started getting boyfriends, but I didn't want a boyfriend, I wanted a thirteen-colour biro.

~Victoria Wood

On a train, why do I always end up sitting next to the woman who's eating the individual fruit pie by sucking the filling out through the hole in the middle?

~Victoria Wood

I can remember when pants were pants. You wore them for twenty years, then you cut them down for pan scrubs. Or quilts.

~Victoria Wood

In Russia, show the least athletic aptitude and they've got you dangling off the parallel bars with a leotard full of hormones.

~Victoria Wood

A man is designed to walk three miles in the rain to phone for help when the car breaks down - and a woman is designed to say, 'you took your time' when he comes back dripping wet.

~Victoria Wood

If God had meant men to have children, he would have given them a PVC apron.

~Victoria Wood

I haven't got a waist. I've just got a sort of place ... a bit like an unmarked level crossing.

~Victoria Wood

Music is an element that should be part and parcel of every child's life via the education system.

~Victoria Wood

I wouldn't kidnap a man for sex - I'm not saying I couldn't use someone to oil the mower.

~Victoria Wood

In my day we didn't have sex education, we just picked up what we could off the television.

~Victoria Wood

Everyone I meet is gay, married or crackers

~Victoria Wood

If you behave normally, people treat you normally. It's only when you act as if you're someone special that they feel obliged to stand on ceremony.

~Victoria Wood

My massage was marvellous. I feel really relaxed. And my masseur, Harold :You can't have a masseur called Harold. It's like having a member of the Royal Family called Ena.

~Victoria Wood

If God had meant them to be lifted and separated, He would have put one on each shoulder.

~Victoria Wood

Radio killed variety and TV killed radio, and the internet will kill television and it will go on and on.

~Victoria Wood

I sometimes think that being widowed is God's way of telling you to come off the Pill.

~Victoria Wood

Acting is not my favourite thing. I don't like wearing costumes and wigs.

~Victoria Wood

Sexual harassment at work... is it a problem for the self-employed?

~Victoria Wood

I have been in a youth hostel...You are put in a kitchen with seventeen venture scouts with behavioural difficulties and made to wash swedes.

~Victoria Wood

People always think I hate doing interviews. I don't. I wouldn't do them if I didn't like them.

~Victoria Wood

In London it's easy not to be the focus of attention, especially when Sting lives in the house just behind you.

~Victoria Wood

A lot of panel programmes rely on men topping each other, or sparring with each other, which is not generally a very female thing.

~Victoria Wood

Music enriches people's lives in the same way paintings and literature do. Everybody deserves that.

~Victoria Wood

Well, I think there's not much of a chance for me finding somebody of my age. Gentlemen of my age are dropping down 30 years to find girlfriends.

~Victoria Wood

I used to make my own food and ate on my own in my room.

~Victoria Wood

In my 20s I was going round seeing agents who were patronising because I was fat and a girl, which was a double whammy. I knew what it was to feel out-of-the-loop.
