I stay away from the internet as much as I can. Except for pornography.

~Vince Gilligan

Let the audience put 2 and 2 together so that it comes up with 4. Let them do that themselves, and they'll love you forever.

~Vince Gilligan

If you're too rigid in your thinking you may miss some wonderful opportunities for storytelling.

~Vince Gilligan

I wanna keep being productive and creative.

~Vince Gilligan

It's weird how with a TV show, you don't have just the one ending - you have the many.

~Vince Gilligan

I'm not a big internet guy - not because I'm not interested in what people have to say, but probably because I'm too interested.

~Vince Gilligan

I love cable, but not because you can show boobies and say the F-word. I love it because you have more time to think. That's the blessing of it.

~Vince Gilligan

It's often the case with successful TV shows that they kind of inadvertently live on past their prime. It's best to leave the audience wanting more.

~Vince Gilligan

People want what they want, for as long as they want it, then tastes change and something else works.

~Vince Gilligan

TV is where writers get to tell interesting stories. Because writers, for the most part, run television.

~Vince Gilligan

What's so great about making television is that it's a collaborative beast. It's created by a great many hands belonging to a great many people.

~Vince Gilligan

I want to believe there's a heaven. But I can't not believe there's a hell.

~Vince Gilligan

The last thing in the world that I would want to know, in my own life, is when I'm going to pass away.

~Vince Gilligan

I think that for me, as far as audience expectations and how you manage your anxiety, it helps to keep things in perspective.

~Vince Gilligan

[Making meth] is a complex process. The truth of it is that we live in a post-Google world where you can find six recipes for meth in 30 seconds on a search engine.

~Vince Gilligan

In all honesty, I've written movies that have been made, and the process has not been as satisfying as writing for television.

~Vince Gilligan

I've imparted that philosophy to the writers, but some of them look stuff up while some don't. Same with the editors, directors and actors. To each their own.
