I don't trust or love anyone. Because people are so creepy. Creepy creepy creeps. Creeping around. Creeping here and creeping there. Creeping everywhere.

~Vincent Gallo

I don't drink any coffee or take any drugs and I don't smoke cigarettes and I don't eat sugar and I don't take any medicine at all. I eat a lot of fish, vegetables, and I stay away from starches.

~Vincent Gallo

I never apologized for anything in my life. The only thing I'm sorry about is putting a curse on Roger Ebert's colon. If a fat pig like Roger Ebert doesn't like my movie, then I'm sorry for him.

~Vincent Gallo

I'm the happiest the saddest guy in the world can be.

~Vincent Gallo

I never wanted to be an actor. I never want to be an actor. I want to be a movie star. The whole idea of having to act is too gruesome. It's too ambitious for me.

~Vincent Gallo

Im sorry Im not gay or Jewish, so I dont have a special interest group of journalists that support me.

~Vincent Gallo

I constantly try to reinvent my sensibilities and my ideas. I enjoy some of the satisfaction that I get when I feel good about what I've done. But the process is quite lonely and quite painful.

~Vincent Gallo

I want to thank Gus Van Sant for selling out so that I could use his editor Curtis Clayton, who did a great job.

~Vincent Gallo

My parents were dishonest people. If it was my birthday, I knew my mother took me to the K-Mart and she stole my toy. She'd put it in the shopping cart and we'd walk out. I was raised with that.

~Vincent Gallo

I stopped painting in 1990 at the peak of my success just to deny people my beautiful paintings. And I did it out of spite.

~Vincent Gallo

I am available to all women - all women who can afford me, that is.

~Vincent Gallo

I'm sort of like a maniac, and I can't get out of it.

~Vincent Gallo

I do not want my new works to be generated in a market or audience of any kind.

~Vincent Gallo

If I gain support, the support doesn't seem to mean anything. It's not like anyone really cares about me.
