

Vir Das Quotes

People, Comedian, Laughing, Comedy, Film, Giving, Bored, Fun, Different, Thinking, Delhi, Hard Work, Management, Nine, Party, Comfort, Fans, Fighting, Shows, Play

The idea is to do out-of-the-box films that showcase my versatility and talent.

~Vir Das

To me, the trick is not how can I make people laugh. It is, how can I make people laugh in a different way.

~Vir Das

Surround yourself with a bunch of like-minded people, and you'll soak up their habits like a starved sponge. Fat people with fat friends care less about their weight.

~Vir Das

I'm a stand-up comedian-turned-actor-turned-vampire at night.

~Vir Das

Whatever movies I sign, they have to get me out of my comfort zone. Otherwise, I would get bored very easily.

~Vir Das

In a big Bollywood romantic film, taking my shirt off and spreading the hand towards the mountain with dancers behind me are not my cup of tea.

~Vir Das

I am a big fan of Adam Sandler and Ben Stiller, who have carved a niche for themselves. I think doing different kind of films gives you longevity and the ability to set yourself apart.

~Vir Das

You realise the responsibility of carrying a film on your shoulders when people are investing money in you and they recognise the hard work you have to put in.

~Vir Das

In 'Delhi Belly,' I was bald; in other movies I always carried a different look.

~Vir Das

In Bollywood, I think Boman Irani and Vinay Pathak are unbelievably good at comedy.

~Vir Das

I auditioned nine times for 'Delhi Belly,' and it was torturous!

~Vir Das

Delhi women - they're the most beautiful women! But the fact remains that they know they are gorgeous.

~Vir Das

Women do come up to me after a show, but it's usually to say, 'Thank you for making us laugh,' and all that.

~Vir Das

I am edgy, raw, offensive, vulgar, untruthful, but intelligent. My jokes are always realistic. I do not make fun of children or people who cannot fight back. That is my limitation.

~Vir Das

Time management is the mantra of my life.

~Vir Das

Relationship humour gets the most laughs. If I'm able to get the women laughing, men will have to laugh along because they would be scared to death.

~Vir Das

My personal favorite is Woody Allen, who is just amazing as a comedian.

~Vir Das

I've been reading a lot of books on history, and watching a lot of educational TV. Wikipedia too, even though it is not reliable.

~Vir Das

I feel like I share a great relationship with my audience where they trust my judgment and choice of films and sense of comedy.

~Vir Das

All of the films I'm doing are young, urban, high-concept, funny films. That's the zone where I'd like to play and have fun in.

~Vir Das

A stand-up comedian will never be the life of a party. Instead, he will be the guy who is standing at a corner and observing people.

~Vir Das

I fear debt. I don't like being indebted to banks. I have a rule in life that I will get it when I can afford it.

~Vir Das

Comedy comes from confusion.

~Vir Das

I love the food, the girls, the sky and everything that is Delhi. I have very fond memories of the Moolchand flyover.

~Vir Das

Someday social media might, hopefully in some small measure, wake up to the fact that other people's failures are not your successes.

~Vir Das

I did theatre in the U.S. because there, content-wise, it's very light. In India, theatre tends to get preachy.

~Vir Das

I do films which get me out of my comedian routine so that I don't get bored being a stand-up comedian. And with films, it's here today, gone tomorrow. So stand-up comedy is here to stay for me.

~Vir Das

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Comedian Quotes
- Laughing Quotes
- Comedy Quotes
- Film Quotes
- Giving Quotes
- Bored Quotes
- Fun Quotes
- Different Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Delhi Quotes
- Hard Work Quotes
- Management Quotes
- Nine Quotes
- Party Quotes
- Comfort Quotes
- Fans Quotes
- Fighting Quotes
- Shows Quotes
- Play Quotes