

Virgil Quotes

Philosophical, Men, Fear, Hell, Latin, Mind, Inspirational, Love, Thinking, Endurance, May, Endure, Fate, Yield, Way, Evil, Death, Determination, Conquer, Bears

They can do all because they think they can.

~Virgil

If I cannot move heaven, I will raise hell.

~Virgil

Fortune sides with he who dares

~Virgil

Maybe one day we shall be glad to remember even these hardships.

~Virgil

Love conquers all things.

~Virgil

Endure, and keep yourselves for days of happiness.

~Virgil

Audaces fortuna iuvat (latin)- Fortune favors the bold.

~Virgil

Endure the present, and watch for better things.

~Virgil

No day shall erase you from the memory of time

~Virgil

Facilis decensus averni. The descent into hell is easy.

~Virgil

What each man feared would happen to himself, did not trouble him when he saw that it would ruin another.

~Virgil

Fortunate is he whose mind has the power to probe the causes of things and trample underfoot all terrors and inexorable fate.

~Virgil

Harsh necessity, and the newness of my kingdom, force me to do such things and to guard my frontiers everywhere.

~Virgil

That man is the most loyal who aims at the noblest motive, and that motive the public good.

~Virgil

Persistent work triumphs.

~Virgil

I have known sorrow and learned to aid the wretched.

~Virgil

Myself acquainted with misfortune, I learn to help the unfortunate.

~Virgil

A shifty, fickle object is woman, always. (Varium et mutabile semper femina.)

~Virgil

From a single crime know the nation.

~Virgil

Nunc scio quit sit amor." Lat., "Now I know what love is.

~Virgil

To have died once is enough.

~Virgil

Time meanwhile is flying, flying beyond recall.

~Virgil

Fear betrays unworthy souls.

~Virgil

Yield thou not to adversity, but press on the more bravely.

~Virgil

Come what may, all bad fortune is to be conquered by endurance.

~Virgil

The Britons are quite separated from all the world.

~Virgil

Amor vincit omnia, et nos cedamus amori. Love conquers all things, so we too shall yield to love.

~Virgil

Trust one who has gone through it.

~Virgil

Love conquers all; therefore, let us submit to love.

~Virgil

Every calamity is to be overcome by endurance.

~Virgil

Go forth a conqueror and win great victories.

~Virgil

The gates of Hell are open night and day; smooth the descent, and easy is the way: but, to return, and view the cheerful skies; in this, the task and mighty labor lies.

~Virgil

Endure and save yourselves for happier times.

~Virgil

None but himself can be his parallel.

~Virgil

Do not yield to misfortunes, but advance more boldly to meet them, as your fortune permits you.

~Virgil

The leader of the deed was a woman. -Dux femina facti

~Virgil

He like a rock in the sea unshaken stands his ground.

~Virgil

Perhaps the day may come when we shall remember these sufferings with joy.

~Virgil

We are not all able to do all things.

~Virgil

The noblest motive is the public good.

~Virgil

There's a snake lurking in the grass.

~Virgil

Hug the shore; let others try the deep.

~Virgil

May the countryside and the gliding valley streams content me. Lost to fame, let me love river and woodland.

~Virgil

Age steals away all things, even the mind.

~Virgil

Evil is nourished and grows by concealment.

~Virgil

Happy the man who has been able to learn the causes of things.

~Virgil

Let us go singing as far as we go: the road will be less tedious.

~Virgil

Trust not the horse, O Trojans. Be it what it may, I fear the Grecians even when they offer gifts.

~Virgil

People are able because they think they're able

~Virgil

The greatest health is wealth.

~Virgil

The hour is ripe, and yonder lies the way.

~Virgil

In strife who inquires whether stratagem or courage was used?

~Virgil

Love conquers all; let us surrender to Love.

~Virgil

Whatever may happen, every kind of fortune is to be overcome by bearing it.

~Virgil

Who asks whether the enemy was defeated by strategy or valor?

~Virgil

Better times perhaps await us who are now wretched

~Virgil

She nourishes the poison in her veins and is consumed by a secret fire.

~Virgil

If only Jupiter would restore me those bygone years.

~Virgil

Learn all from one thing. -Ab uno disce omnes

~Virgil

Love begets love, love knows no rules, this is same for all.

~Virgil

A fickle and changeful thing is a woman ever.

~Virgil

Yield not to calamity, but face her boldly.

~Virgil

Time passes irrevocably.

~Virgil

Each person, makes their own terrible passion their God.

~Virgil

All things deteriorate in time.

~Virgil

Each of us bears his own Hell.

~Virgil

Trust one who has tried.

~Virgil

He enters the port with a full sail.

~Virgil

Not being untutored in suffering, I learn to pity those in affliction

~Virgil

Let not our proposal be disregarded on the score of our youth.

~Virgil

Persevere and preserve yourselves for better circumstances.

~Virgil

We may be masters of our every lot
By bearing it.

~Virgil

Through pain I've learned to comfort suffering men

~Virgil

Each man is led by his own liking.

~Virgil

Perhaps even these things, one day, will be pleasing to remember.

~Virgil

All our sweetest hours fly fastest.

~Virgil

Every man makes a god of his own desire

~Virgil

Want of pluck shows want of blood

~Virgil

Uneven numbers are the gods' delight.

~Virgil

Then endure for a while, and live for a happier day!

~Virgil

Consider what each soil will bear, and what each refuses

~Virgil

Passion and strife bow down the mind

~Virgil

Veiling truth in mystery.

~Virgil

Look with favor upon a bold beginning.

~Virgil

Una Salus Victis Nullam Sperare Salutem - (Latin - written 19 BC) The only hope for the doomed, is no hope at all.

~Virgil

What region of the earth is not full of our calamities?

~Virgil

Trust not too much to appearances

~Virgil

Yield not to evils, but attack all the more boldly.

~Virgil

Your descendants shall gather your fruits.

~Virgil

The only safety for the conquered is to expect no safety.

~Virgil

A fault is fostered by concealment.

~Virgil

Is it then so sad a thing to die?

~Virgil

O you who have borne even heavier things, to these too, God will grant an end!

~Virgil

Such is the love of praise, so great the anxiety for victory.

~Virgil

That which an enraged woman can accomplish.

~Virgil

Who can blind lover's eyes?

~Virgil

Their rage supplies them with weapons.

~Virgil

There's a snake hidden in the grass.

~Virgil

Live on in your blessings, your destiny's been won. But ours calls us on from one ordeal to the next.

~Virgil

Angels boast ethereal vigor, and are formed from seeds of heavenly birth.

~Virgil

Related Links:

- Philosophical Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Fear Quotes
- Hell Quotes
- Latin Quotes
- Mind Quotes
- Inspirational Quotes
- Love Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Endurance Quotes
- May Quotes
- Endure Quotes
- Fate Quotes
- Yield Quotes
- Way Quotes
- Evil Quotes
- Death Quotes
- Determination Quotes
- Conquer Quotes
- Bears Quotes