Say something idiotic and nobody but a dog politely wags his tail.

~Virginia Graham

Good shot, bad luck and hell are the five basic words to be used in a game of tennis, though these, of course, can be slightly amplified.

~Virginia Graham

The women sit, getting colder and colder, on a seat getting harder and harder, watching oafs, getting muddier and muddier.

~Virginia Graham

Be blind. Be stupid. Be British. Be careful.

~Virginia Graham

For a driver to be driven by somebody else is an ordeal, for there are only three types of drivers: the too fast, the timid and oneself.

~Virginia Graham

When some people retire, it's going to be mighty hard to be able to tell the difference.

~Virginia Graham

In society it is etiquette for ladies to have the best chairs and get handed things. In the home the reverse is the case. This is why ladies are more sociable than gentlemen.

~Virginia Graham

when we travel, most of us take too much. I always work on the assumption that I'm going to take everything with me because I don't want the second wife to have anything if the plane crashes.

~Virginia Graham

I have the perfect face for radio.

~Virginia Graham

a woman is not really dressed unless she is wearing a hat.

~Virginia Graham

There are some composers - at the head of whom stands Beethoven - who not only do not know when to stop but appear to stop many times before they actually do.

~Virginia Graham

Committee meetings are always held at inconvenient times and usually take place in dark, dusty rooms the temperatures of which are unsuited to the human body.

~Virginia Graham

... for some of us life always comes C.O.D.

~Virginia Graham

Maturity gives us jealous eyes. We look with jealousy on the younger woman because she doesn't know as much now as we do, and, oh, what we could do with our wisdom and her face.

~Virginia Graham

It is not done to let anybody be too happy. The moment two people seem to be enjoying one another's company, a good hostess introduces a third element or removes the first.

~Virginia Graham

I am a living soap opera.
