As I was walking down the stairs, I kept thinking that the room felt like a movie theater with all your attention on this wall, so it seemed like a big challenge.

~Wade Guyton

The Internet has a lot of solutions. I found an insane way to trap chipmunks - it was too crazy not to try.

~Wade Guyton

Being an artist is supposed to be a scam, not a career.

~Wade Guyton

To some extent I've always taken the architecture of the space into account.

~Wade Guyton

When I was younger and was working as a Dia guard I would go to see everything. I went to every opening. I was really interested in seeing and learning as much as I could.

~Wade Guyton

I was really naïve. I had no idea artists made money.

~Wade Guyton

I've never seen a postcard of my work in a museum.

~Wade Guyton

I'm always looking at the computer. I make all of my work on the computer at some point or another. Almost all of the paintings come from a file.

~Wade Guyton

Well, art has to be sexy.

~Wade Guyton

The way I make drawings is just with a desktop Epson C88 printer and they are designed to break, they are really cheap. So I bought a lot of them before it became impossible to find them.

~Wade Guyton

People will still make great art, but I think it's good to assume you will always be a failure. People were believing the opposite.

~Wade Guyton

I think as a student I ended up liking so many different and conflicting things.

~Wade Guyton

I hated art as a kid. I didn't even like art class. I didn't like to draw. I would make my dad do all the drawings because I hated it so much.

~Wade Guyton

I don't really live the bohemian life. I come to work in Midtown everyday, along with all the work-a-day folk.

~Wade Guyton

It seemed to me that a lot of people started going to art school recently because they thought they could be famous and make a lot of money. They might be in for a bad turn.

~Wade Guyton

I came late to galleries. A lot of people my age started their careers younger, so I was spared seeing that side for a long time.

~Wade Guyton

I didn't even realize that people bought contemporary art . . . that people actually paid for it.
