Meditation transports one from the transient world of matter to the real world of dreamings, visions, and imaginings where idea is and concepts are born.

~Walter Russell

Knowledge is cosmic. It does not evolve or unfold in man. Man unfolds to an awareness of it. He gradually discovers it.

~Walter Russell

The true measure of greatness of a human being is their ability to express love in relationship.

~Walter Russell

Every man should be master of anything he does and should do it in a masterly manner, with love, no matter what it is, whether hard physical work, menial or boring work, or inspirational work.

~Walter Russell

The keystone of the entire structure of the spiritual and physical universe is Rhythmic Balanced Interchange between all opposites.

~Walter Russell

The beauty of a piece of music is not in its technique but in the Soul of its creator; nor is it in the sound vibrations of the piece but in the silence of the Light from which the sound springs.

~Walter Russell

I will see beauty and goodness in all things. From all that is unlovely shall my vision be immune.

~Walter Russell

Every genius thinks INWARDLY toward his Mind instead of outwardly toward his senses

~Walter Russell

When our knowing exceeds our sensing, we will no longer be deceived by the illusions of our senses.

~Walter Russell

When the human race learns how to give and regive equally each will be enriched. He who withholds that which he should give to another impoverishes both himself and the other.

~Walter Russell

If we think we are tired or ill, it is only because we have done something to unbalance the bodily conductivity of the universal electric current which motivates it.

~Walter Russell

There should be no distasteful tasks in one's life. If you just hate to do a thing, that hatred for it develops body-destructive toxins, and you become fatigued very soon.

~Walter Russell

The cardinal error of science lies in shutting the Creator out of His Creation.

~Walter Russell

To know the mechanics of the wave, is to know the entire secret of Nature.

~Walter Russell

If you want it and believe you can have it, you will.

~Walter Russell

You may command nature to the extent only in which you are willing to obey her.

~Walter Russell

All motion is curved and all curvature is spiral.

~Walter Russell

You have to gather your energy together...conserving it and insulating it from dissipation in every direction other than that of your purpose.

~Walter Russell

The healing principle is within man himself. Man's power to heal himself, or extend his healing power to others, is measured by his awareness of God in him.

~Walter Russell

Security and contentment can come only through interdependence of every man upon every other man.

~Walter Russell

Inspiration comes only to those who seek it with humility toward their own achievements and reverence toward the achievements of God.

~Walter Russell

I believe sincerely that every man has consummate genius within him.

~Walter Russell

In motion alone is the answer to all of the mysteries of matter.

~Walter Russell

All of man's wars are based upon TAKING. There could be no war based upon GIVING.

~Walter Russell

I will do today that which is of today and pay no heed to the tomorrow; nor waste regrets on that which was yesterday.

~Walter Russell

Lock yourself up in your room or go out in the woods where you can be alone. When you are alone the universe talks to you in flashes of inspiration.

~Walter Russell

The cube and the sphere are the sole working tools of creation

~Walter Russell

There is no necessity for a technique or formula for meditation. Inner feeling, or inner knowing, is the silent voice of inspiration.

~Walter Russell

The universe gives to those who ask without favor. The electric plug which connects you is desire.

~Walter Russell

The great lesson to learn of life is the need of giving out from the abundance of one's self in order to be ever abundant within one's self.

~Walter Russell

Genius awaits him who listens. The messages of genius are for the Soul of man. The senses of man comprehend them not.

~Walter Russell

He who cultivates that quiet, unobtrusive ecstasy of inner joyousness can scale any heights and be a leader in his field, no matter what that field is.

~Walter Russell

It was then given me to know that the power of revitalization of my body was mine, and I, who had been pronounced dead by man, lived strongly in the body.

~Walter Russell

Every action in Nature is voided as it occurs, is repeated as it is voided, and is recorded as it is repeated.

~Walter Russell

Those things that I must do I shall desire to do.

~Walter Russell

Every thought and action of anyone affects everyone.

~Walter Russell

Happy salesmen not only multiply their volume of business and their income, they also multiply themselves.

~Walter Russell

I do not recognize these as defeats. They are but interesting experiences of life. They are valuable stepping stones to success.

~Walter Russell

And that is what radio-activity is, a quick return to the state of rest which underlies the spiritual or invisible universe.

~Walter Russell

A menial task which must be mine, that shall I glorify and make an art of it.

~Walter Russell

He who seeks possessions for himself will never find them-until he begins to give of the abundance of possessions which he already has.

~Walter Russell

I learned to cross the threshold of my studio with reverence, as though I were entering a shrine set apart for me to become co-creator with the Universal Thinker of all things.

~Walter Russell

I believe that mediocrity is self-inflicted and that genius is self-bestowed.

~Walter Russell

I will keep my body charged with energy for fulfillment of my purpose, in accord with that which is commanded of me.

~Walter Russell

How can one call that a defeat? There is no such thing.

~Walter Russell

The sum total of each man's giving determines the standard of man's civilization.

~Walter Russell

My power will be in humility.

~Walter Russell

The very foundation of the living of life lies in the desire of every man to give service to fulfill the needs of his neighbor.

~Walter Russell

Unity of man has always been impossible in a world of fear and discontent where every man fears every other man as an enemy.

~Walter Russell

Science has great skills, great reasoning and great intelligence in combining effects. It knows HOW to do many things but it admittedly does not know the WHY of anything.

~Walter Russell

You can become a great creator or a little one as the intensity of your desire is little or great.

~Walter Russell

"We must learn that the electric Universe of motion is divided into wave cycles which are equally divided into opposite expressions"

~Walter Russell

The Life Triumphant is that which places what a man gives to the world in creative expression far ahead of that which he takes from it of the creations of others.

~Walter Russell

My day shall be filled to overflowing, yet shall I not haste the day; nor shall I waste the day.

~Walter Russell

ALL KNOWLEDGE is possible for anyone - and the Cosmos gives it to him who asks, but all information is impossible.

~Walter Russell

In the wave lies the secret of creation.

~Walter Russell

The greatest asset of man is man. The wealth of any man is dependent upon the wealth of every other man. Abundance for one is impossible in an impoverished world.

~Walter Russell

I have no limitations. Unlimited power is mine within that which is universal.

~Walter Russell

Until one learns to lose one's self he cannot find himself.

~Walter Russell

My today is what I will to make it. I will to make it perfect.

~Walter Russell

So that I may meet the day with the knowledge to build the day I will look into my soul while it still dawn, before the morning breaketh.

~Walter Russell

The essence of strategy is to align your ends with your means: to match your goals and your resources.

~Walter Russell

When I arrived at the point where I received public acclaim, I felt the most lowly, because I knew within myself that I had but begun to tap my inner resources.

~Walter Russell

There is no use for energy of any kind whatsoever unless there is a plan back of it.

~Walter Russell

When one trusts this inner universal power, it automatically draws forth the trust of the people one deals with.

~Walter Russell

The personal ego must be suppressed and replaced with the 'universal ego.'

~Walter Russell

~Walter Russell

My joy will be in serving.

~Walter Russell

Force I will meet with gentleness; impatience with patience.

~Walter Russell

Grief is selfish. It is indulged in for self-gratification, not for love. Cosmic man knows the beauty and unreality of death.

~Walter Russell

Action and reaction are equal and opposite, and are expressed simultaneously. Sequentially they are repeated in reverse, the reaction becoming the action and the action the reaction.

~Walter Russell

Women, are a map, Avik. You've got to understand their longitude, and how much latitude you can take.

~Walter Russell

He claims he has never known fatigue while obeying the law, but when he does break it he feels a sense of guilt in discovering the slightest evidence of fatigue which tells him that he has broken it.

~Walter Russell

Tilth is something every farmer can recognize but no scientist can measure.

~Walter Russell

Cooling bodies gravitate and heat as they gravitate-heating bodies radiate, and cool as they radiate.

~Walter Russell

Knowledge is not acquired from without but merely recollected from within. The recollection of knowledge from within is an electro-magnetic process of thinking Mind.
