The government of the German Democratic Republic rejects secret policies. It works for the people, and only the people, so it does not need to keep secrets like the warmongers.

~Walter Ulbricht

Nobody intends to put up a wall!

~Walter Ulbricht

Let us show our fellow countrymen and the entire world what the Germans can do when they work for peace.

~Walter Ulbricht

Nobody has the intention of building a wall

~Walter Ulbricht

May we soon enjoy the fruits of our labor in a peaceful and united Germany.

~Walter Ulbricht

The West German population would protest passionately if it knew what secret meetings between the federal chancellor, McCoy, and foreign and Nazi generals are planning.

~Walter Ulbricht

In the past, people worked together only when some great disaster threatened.

~Walter Ulbricht

This hunger for profits causes great misery for the people.

~Walter Ulbricht

The nature of a democracy consists to an important degree in the right of the people to criticize problems and mistakes.

~Walter Ulbricht

Any sensible family has a budget that lays out how much will be spent for household and other purposes. Without such planning, things would quickly go awry.

~Walter Ulbricht

The guiding principle is not to manufacture the goods everyone needs, rather to earn profits for a few capitalists.

~Walter Ulbricht

Gifts fall from heaven only in fairy tales.

~Walter Ulbricht

The success of each of us benefits us all, and the success of us all benefits each of us individually.

~Walter Ulbricht

The victory of the working people over the exploiters and slave holders is at the same time the victorious struggle for liberation by the German people.

~Walter Ulbricht
