The future begins today.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

You crave winning and fear losing instead of just doing. To succeed you must remove your self-imposed limitations.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Helping people and putting smiles on their faces is a great, great thing. God only knows why more people don't do it more often.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Instead of loving people and using money, people often love money and use people.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

The sad truth about bigotry is that most bigots either don't realize that they are bigots, or they convince themselves that their bigotry is perfectly justified.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Growth of consciousness does not depend on the might of the intellect but on the conviction of the heart.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

People who repeatedly attack your confidence and self-esteem are quite aware of your potential, even if you are not.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Change. Adapt. Bend so as not to be broken. Let opportunity guide your actions.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Sometimes people with low self-esteem will try to punish you for caring about them.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Often, what people don't say tell you more about the nature of their insecurities than what they do say.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

I've been told, by various people, that I think too much. This is incorrect! The truth is that I deliberately challenge people to think more than they would like to.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

I see you have returned, my love; and your mood is as dark as ever. Did your soldiers not adore you to your complete satisfaction?

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Envy suggests inferiority.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

You must learn to control your dreams or your dreams will forever control you.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Water - a thoroughly underrated drink.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

I don't like zombie movies, they're just plain silly.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

As long as the peace-makers are armed with assault rifles, it's highly unlikely we'll ever have peace.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Today, I attended a friend's birthday party dressed as a ninja. I soon discovered that ninjas are very misunderstood.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

A steadfast heart does not stray from the path.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Fear sees, even when eyes are closed.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Burying your head in the sand does not make you invisible it only leads to suffocation.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Do not dismiss the words of the old; they possess wisdom, which comes only with age, and often speak of things that the young are too immature to understand.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Our perception of space-time can be thought of in terms of event coordinates relative to our current state of consciousness.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Revenge can only be found on the road to self-destruction.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Modesty isn't always a virtue; it can be a hindrance; a careful measure of personal pride builds confidence and ensures success.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

The laws of men are not infallible.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

I appreciated art, long before I could produce it.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

The eternal sea of politics is best left to politicians.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

I've decided I don't like books that end with 'The End'. The fact that there are no more pages, suggests to me that the book has ended.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

For most people, art is only valuable if other people say it is; and artists are only worthwhile if they are either rich and famous, or dead.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

So often, the discarded love of youth is desperately yearned for in maturity.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

There are few things worse than mistaking an enemy for a friend.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Verily, a man without fear is either dead or happy to die.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Of what value is your life, unless you are willing to sacrifice it for those you love?

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Lovers and warriors are not bound by the rules of fair play.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

A true master will not deceive an able disciple. You are hampered by the limits you set and no limit can be set on skill.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

A place without meaning is no place to be.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Verily, a man should not cling to those who have passed, for he will likely neglect service to the living.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

What you call life is but a dream, and reality is relative.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

A gift involves sacrifice. If you give away something that you no longer value or want, it cannot be a gift. It is simply a discarded item.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Optimists are usually inexperienced.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Contentment comes from wanting what we need, not needing what we want.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman

Sometimes strange fiction, becomes grim reality.

~Wayne Gerard Trotman
