I almost shouldn't be in Limp Bizkit, it's like I got matched in the factory with the wrong band.

~Wes Borland

Real family values have gone down the drain in modern families.

~Wes Borland

Guys are idiots, till they're what, 40 years old.

~Wes Borland

Music has completely taken over every aspect of my life and ruined everything.

~Wes Borland

I have nothing to complain about.

~Wes Borland

I don't feel like singing should be taken lightly. It's one of the hardest things I've ever done, but it's coming along.

~Wes Borland

There may be something good in silence. It's a brand new thing. You can hear the funniest little discussions, if you keep turning the volume down. Shut yourself up, and listen out loud.

~Wes Borland

It's always a pleasure when you can compose guitar parts from a strong vocal and not just put the melody on top of guitar riffs.

~Wes Borland

I've never really been schooled in music theory. I'm a guitar player, and I attack the guitar in a certain way that it's not fully unique to me, but it's more unique than some other people.

~Wes Borland

It's weird to try to write lyrics for somebody else. They can't really get behind what you're saying or what you want them to say because they didn't experience it.

~Wes Borland

Selling records is fantastic. But if you're not loving what you do, and if everybody is throwing knives at you, it can get old very fast.

~Wes Borland

I've always wanted to be a songwriter and a storyteller and somebody who conveys a feeling to the listener or the viewer.

~Wes Borland

I'm always looking at other artists and trying to get inspired by different things.

~Wes Borland

We're gonna totally sell out and try to dominate the world

~Wes Borland

All I want to do is write songs about funny characters I made up.

~Wes Borland

I don't feel there's any kind of pain in my life.

~Wes Borland

It took me a long time to find my voice as a singer, and I'm happy that I did.

~Wes Borland

I'm too old to be farting around with stuff that isn't precisely what I want to do.

~Wes Borland

I would love to put out music that was just stunning or soul-baring or whatever. But I don't think I have the voice for it.

~Wes Borland
