It's much easier to learn what you should do in trading than to do it.
Good systems tend to violate normal human tendencies.

~William Eckhardt

Amateurs go broke taking large losses, professionals go broke taking small profits.

~William Eckhardt

Don't think about what the market's going to do; you have absolutely no control over that. Think about what you're going to do if it gets there.

~William Eckhardt

I take the point of view that missing an important trade is a much more serious error than making a bad trade.

~William Eckhardt

Good systems tend to violate normal human tendencies.

~William Eckhardt

You can be very promiscuous in your research, but not in your trading.

~William Eckhardt

If the losses don't hurt, your financial survival is tenuous.

~William Eckhardt

What feels good is often the wrong thing to do.
