When I was younger, I never wanted to rehearse because I thought that someone would figure out I don't know what I'm doing.

~William Fichtner

I like characters where there's something going on and something to make him real. If you find out what somebody cares about, all of a sudden, the whole world opens up.

Ridley Scott - not that he shared it a lot, but you can just see that everything he did, Ridley always seemed to be just so clear. I love that about him.

~William Fichtner

The greatest joy in getting ready for the film is that there aren't many reference points for the journey and you've got to define it for yourself.
