There are times when a man should be content with what he has but never with what he is

~William George Jordan

Love, in the divine alchemy of life, transmutes all duties into privileges, all responsibilities into joys.

~William George Jordan

Every man has an atmosphere which is affecting every other.

~William George Jordan

Education, in its highest sense, is conscious training of mind or body to act unconsciously. It is conscious formation of mental habits, not mere acquisition of information.

~William George Jordan

Worry is forethought gone to seed.

~William George Jordan

Man does not drift into goodness...the chance port of an aimless voyage. He must fight ever for his destination.

~William George Jordan

A fad lives its life in a few weeks; a philosophy lives through generations and centuries; a principle, forever.

~William George Jordan

Happiness is the soul's joy in the possession of the intangible.

~William George Jordan

Life is not something to be lived through: it is something to be lived up to. It is a privilege, not a penal servitude of so many decades on earth.

~William George Jordan

Life is a state of constant radiation and absorption; to exist is to radiate; to exist is to be the recipient of radiations.

~William George Jordan

We carry our house plants from one window to another to give them the proper heat, light, and moisture. Should we not be at least as careful of ourselves?

~William George Jordan

Gratitude is thankfulness expressed in action.

~William George Jordan

Nature is very un-American. Nature never hurries.

~William George Jordan

Life is simply time given to man to learn how to live.

~William George Jordan

He who thinks all mankind is vile is a pessimist who mistakes his introspection for observation; he looks into his own heart and thinks he sees the world.

~William George Jordan

Worry is discounting possible future sorrows so that the individual may have present misery.
